NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED, 140,000 MAJORITY INDICATED

CITY AND COUNTY 3-TO-1 FOR CODE; RURAL VOTE ALSO IS IN ITS FAVOR

Total of About 600,000 Ballots Cast — New Charter to Go in Effect After Official Canvass in 3 Weeks.

By CURTIS A. BETTS
State Political Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

The new State Constitution, a modern, progressive document replacing the antiquated 70-year-old Constitution, was adopted by the voters yesterday in an election in which its opponents met a crushing defeat.

With overwhelming leads in St. Louis, St. Louis county and Kansas City and a small lead on incomplete returns from the rest of the state, the majority on complete returns is expected to be about 140,000 in a total vote of slightly less than 600,000.

The voting was light in comparison with that cast in presidential elections, being only about one-third of the 1944 general election total, but was as high as is usually cast in special elections.

Greater Margin Than Expected.

While the adoption was expected, the majority is much higher than was predicted by those in charge of the campaign, particularly in the rural areas, where reports during the campaign had indicated the Constitution would not receive a favorable vote.

With 1058 rural precincts unreported, the vote was 292,814 for adoption to 154,829 against, a lead of 137,985. The total in St. Louis was 94,770 for adoption to 31,715 against, a majority of 63,055.

St. Louis County returned a majority of 26,754 for adoption, the vote being 40,023 for to 13,269 against. Jackson County, including Kansas City, gave a majority of 39,956 for adoption, the vote being 51,750 for to 11,794 against.

Outstate the vote was close, 1878

SOME SECRET AGREEMENTS BY BIG 3, PRESIDENT SAYS

Probably Will Become Apparent in Time, He States—To Address Congress on Crimea Decisions Tomorrow at 11:30 A. M.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt returned today from the Crimea Conference with buoyant hopes for an enduring peace and worldwide reduction of armaments.

Back from a five-week, 14,000-mile journey to Russia by cruiser and plane, the President disclosed that everything agreed on at the meeting will not be disclosed immediately. He said that some secret understandings were reached and that they necessarily must remain secret for a while, although they probably will become apparent in time.

The President now plans:

A report in person to Congress and the country tomorrow at 11:30 a. m. (St. Louis time) on the meeting at which he, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin blueprinted the "final defeat" of a "doomed" Germany and plans for perpetuating eventual peace. The report will be broadcast.

An appearance at a United Nations conference opening in San Francisco April 25. As official host, Roosevelt probably will welcome and address the delegates.

Another of his periodic meetings with Churchill, after the San Francisco parley has finished its work. The British frequently have suggested that the President visit London.

Came Ashore Last Night.

Roosevelt came ashore at an east coast port last night and reached Washington this morning by special train. He left here Jan. 22 for eight days of momentous talks on war and peace in the old summer palace of the czars at Yalta.

The only other stops on the round trip were in Malta, Egypt and Algiers. In Egypt, the President conferred with King Farouk and with the rulers of Ethiopia and Saudi Arabia.

The return trip included a speedy run through the Straits of

ROOSEVELT STOOD THE JOURNEY WELL, HIS PHYSICIAN SAYS

President Had Slight Cold on Trip to Crimea—Relaxed Aboard Ship.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire said today that President Roosevelt's health stood up well under the strain of the Crimea conference, although he spent long, strenuous hours on the job.

The President's physician, who accompanied him to Russia, told reporters he was pleased with Roosevelt's condition.

The President still is thinner than he was a year or so ago, but his color seems much improved.

While he had a trace of a cold on the trip to Europe, he got over it quickly. The voyage home aboard a cruiser gave him ample time to rest and relax, and he was in the best of spirits whenever reporters saw him.

Jonathan Daniels, acting press secretary at the White House, described Roosevelt today as "in grand spirits and great shape."

Opening his news conference this morning, Daniels said: "The President is back and I have never seen him looking better."

Asked whether his remarks set at rest some Rome reports that the President's health was not good, Daniels replied:

"Absolutely. I have never seen the President look as well. He is in grand shape."

ONLY 4 CITY WARDS AGAINST CHARTER; NICOLAY'S IS FOR IT

Those Opposing New Code Are Among 5 With Heaviest Concentration of Negro Voters.

Analysis of the St. Louis vote in yesterday's special election shows that only four of the 28 wards gave majorities against the new Missouri Constitution and that these were among the five wards having the heaviest concentration of Negro voters.

There had been much agitation among Negroes against the new Constitution, on the ground that it did not go far enough to suit them in assuring their civil rights and economic opportunities. Proponents argued that it at least represented an advance over the old basic law.

The Fifth, Sixth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth Wards were the ones voting against the proposition. Their combined vote was 4160 for it and 6512 against—an unfavorable majority of 2352. One other ward with a heavy proportion of Negro voters, the Fourth, west of Grand boulevard and north of Easton, home of Chairman John J. Dwyer of the Democratic City Committee, voted for the Constitution, 1850 to 1370.

Elmer Nicolay, Republican committeeman and former State Representative, who organized workers against the Constitution, failed to carry his home ward, the Fourteenth. Voters there favored the proposition, 4639 to 1342. In the neighboring South Side Thirteenth Ward, home of Chairman Louis J. Reidel of the Republican City Committee, the favorable result was 4509 to 1102.

Republican Committeeman James A. Murphy of the Twenty-sixth Ward, who was asked by Nicolay to get anti-Constitution workers, but who was mysterious as to his intentions, did not turn out any unusual negative vote; his ward went 3840 yes and 954 no.

An outspoken opponent of the

RUSSIANS OCCUPY NEUSTETTIN; REDS 20 MILES FROM BALTIC, FOE SAYS

Soviet Troops Have Reached Pollnow in Threat to Escape Line, Germans Report—Mud Hampers Assault.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Second White Russian Army driving toward the Baltic has captured Neustettin, Marshal Stalin announced tonight, and Berlin said the Russians had reached Pollnow, within 15 miles of the last escape road of Nazis battling in eastern Pomerania and the Polish corridor.

The Germans earlier announced evacuation of Neustettin, 30 miles south of Pollnow. Stalin's order of the day also proclaimed capture of Prechalau, 15 miles northwest of the Polish corridor town of Chojnice.

Pollnow is 12 miles north of captured Bublitz, 20 miles from the Baltic and 15 miles from the coastal railway connecting Danzig and Stettin.

A Transocean news agency broadcast from Berlin said the Russians had reached Pollnow and a military spokesman called the breakthrough in that area toward Koeslin "the most dramatic event of the last 24 hours."

Red Fleet Covering Troops.

The rushing Baltic-bound Red Army vanguards were constantly covered by the Red Fleet, the spokesman said.

Moscow dispatches said the Russians were about 20 miles from Koeslin, on the Danzig-Stettin railway.

A Reuters dispatch from Moscow said the Russian spearheads had reached the Danzig-Stettin coastal road and were "in sight of the Baltic."

Fierce Counterattacks.

Associated Press dispatches from Moscow, however, said Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army had been slowed in its push toward the Baltic by mud and fierce counterattacks designed to prevent the closing of the trap on thousands of Germans in Eastern Pomerania and the rest of the old Polish corridor.

Red Star, Soviet army organ, says spring has already come to eastern Pomerania. The sun has melted most of the snow from the fields and the rivers have overflowed their banks, converting

NAZIS GIVING UP TO PATTON, MAKING ONLY TOKEN FIGHT

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY ENTERING BITBURG, Feb. 28 (AP).—The break-through by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army has crushed the fight out of the Germans.

For the first time since the Third Army hit Normandy, German officers are surrendering their depleted units after mere "token" shows of resistance. In four days 6000 men and officers have bowed out of the war by surrendering.

One artillery officer far superior to the type which formerly headed for the prisoner of war cages surrendered, saying, "It is better to end this horror than to have the horror never end."

"What he had to say confirmed what we already knew—that German resistance in this neck of the woods it kaput," said Lt. Col. Richard Fleischer of Philadelphia.

HARRY HOPKINS IN HOSPITAL AFTER YALTA TRIP, PAPER SAYS

ROCHESTER, Minn., Feb. 28 (AP).—Harry Hopkins, special presidential assistant, who has returned from a trip abroad which included the Yalta conference, is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital here, the Rochester Post-Bulletin said today.

Authorities of the Mayo Clinic, where Hopkins was a patient for more than a month last spring, refused to comment.

The Post-Bulletin said Hopkins was brought here late Tuesday in an Army transport plane. He was treated here in 1944 for a stomach ailment.

JAP ATTACK EAST OF MANILA BEATEN OFF; FIRST SUPPLY SHIP ENTERS BAY

Foe Driven Back With Heavy Losses in Marakina Area—Capture of Verde Island Is Completed.

By FRED HAMPSON

MANILA, Feb. 28 (AP). — Screaming Japanese, attacking behind the heaviest artillery barrage in the growing battle for the Marikina watershed east of Manila, launched a large-scale banzai charge against elements of the American Sixth Infantry Division today but were beaten off with heavy losses.

The attack occurred near Montalban, 12 miles northeast of Manila and close to the northern end of elaborately prepared enemy defenses along the watershed.

The Sixth and the First (dismounted) Cavalry division found the Japanese entrenched in a series of caves and interconnected pillboxes along a knife-edge ridge of the Sierra Madre mountains, reaching 13 miles from the foothills of Mount Oro to Antipolo.

Outnumbered on Corregidor.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a special announcement subsequent to his regular communique said the first Allied supply ship had entered Manila Bay, and disclosed that American forces which recaptured Corregidor were numerically far inferior to the entrenched Japanese garrison.

MacArthur reported that 3038 Yank paratroops and infantrymen landed on "the rock," held by an estimated 6000 Japanese. A total of 4215 Japanese bodies have been counted on Corregidor and countless others have been killed either in attempts to escape from the island or by explosions in the tunnels. MacArthur said the mopping-up was virtually completed.

Although Manila harbor is open to shipping, major construction and wreckage-clearing projects will be required to restore port facilities. Sunken ships abound in the dock areas and months of American bombing had blasted the piers.

Meanwhile, American infantrymen in Manila cleaned out Japanese in the legislative building, but suicide squads continued to hold out in the finance and agriculture buildings.

Verde Capture Completed.

MacArthur's communique announced the complete destruction of the enemy on little Verde Island, between Luzon and Mindoro, which was invaded Sun-

NINTH ARMY BARS ALL NEWS CONCERNING ITS ADVANCES

Nazis Out of Touch With Some Units, Don't Know Where Yanks Are.

WITH THE UNITED STATES NINTH ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 28 (AP).—Effective at 6 p. m. yesterday the Ninth Army imposed a news blackout on operations of all divisions that have broken through German defenses west of the Rhine.

The Army announced that until further notice no indication would be given of advances.

The reason given was that the Germans did not know where the advanced American forces were, as some units were out of contact, and that publication would be giving information to the enemy.

TWO AMERICAN SUBMARINES OVERDUE AND PRESUMED LOST

Escolar and Shark Were 1525-ton Craft Which Carried Crew Of 65.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Two United States submarines, the Escolar and the Shark, are overdue from patrol and presumed lost, the Navy announced today.

The vessels were of 1525 tons, a type which normally carries a complement of about 65 officers and men.

Next of kin of all casualties have been notified, the Navy said.

Yanks of the First Army, striking across the Erft River, last defense line before Cologne, were moving on that great Rhine River city today while American Ninth Army forces to the north, last reported within artillery range of Duesseldorf and driving for a junction with Canadian First Army troops, were operating under a news "blackout." Calcar fell to the advancing Canadian army. In the south, Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army captured Bitburg and aimed encirclement drives at Trier.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL TO CLEAR WALLACE'S WAY

Measure Divorces Lending Agencies From Commerce Post—Price of Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt has cleared the way for a Cabinet post for Henry A. Wallace by signing the George bill into law. The White House disclosed today that the President signed the measure at sea last Saturday.

The legislation separates the Federal lending agencies from the Commerce Department.

There was no supplemental statement by the President. Roosevelt announced sometime ago that he would sign the measure.

Administration leaders had told him that his signature would be the price of getting the former Vice President approved by the Senate as Secretary of Commerce.

The Senate is scheduled to take up the Wallace nomination tomorrow. Wallace has said he would accept the job for the duration of the war even though authority over the lending agencies was removed.

The George measure restores permanent control of the 40 billion dollar Reconstruction Finance Corporation and subsidiaries to a Federal Loan Administrator. It provides also for a yearly audit of the agencies, with reports to Congress.

MARINES ADVANCE SLIGHTLY IN HEAVY ATTACKS ON IWO

Jap Resistance Undiminished Despite Pounding by Planes and Heavy Guns.

By LEIF ERICKSON

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Feb. 28 (AP). — Marines along a line bisecting Iwo kept a terrific pressure today on the Japanese in a supreme effort to crack a foe known to be short of water and believed to be running low on ammunition.

The latest Marine advances, however, stirred up a heavy barrage of enemy artillery and mortar fire, which had noticeably slackened on Monday. The Americans straightened out the lines Tuesday with small gains north up high ground blanketed by pillboxes and blockhouses.

The Marine line, manned by three divisions, cuts across the island's center at the north end of the fighter airfield where the Japanese still hold a fingertip's grasp after a week of battling over that base.

As the fight for the island entered its tenth day, Japanese dug in on the higher northern half still showed a marked power to resist, although they have been shelled incessantly from the sea, bombed from the air and pounded by artillery.

They even have tanks left on

AMERICANS CROSS ERFT, 6 1-2 MILES FROM CITY; NAZIS IN RUHR IN FLIGHT

9th Army Driving North Toward Junction With Canadians — Germans Surrendering by Thousands.

PARIS, Feb. 28 (AP). — First Army tanks and infantry battled within six and a half miles of Cologne tonight after throwing three bridgeheads across the Erft River. Only flat plains lay ahead to the great city on the Rhine.

Ninth Army sweeps through disordered German resistance imperilled the Ruhr administrative center of Duesseldorf; already in artillery range. Muenchen Gladbach was bypassed and its suburbs were entered.

Germans west of the Rhine "realize the jig is up and are withdrawing their artillery," a Ninth Army officer said at dusk.

In the center, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army captured the military highway center of Bitburg—the "Bastogne of Germany." Third Army tanks were on the move to encircle ancient Trier.

The Germans retreated across the Rhine plain before the massed and growing might of the American First and Ninth Armies in the biggest break-through since Normandy—a retreat which was virtually a rout.

Canadian advances in the north threatened the Rhineland bastion of Xanten, six miles across the Rhine from the Ruhr city of Wesel. Xanten is beyond the Rochwald where the third and last of three Siegfried Line chains protected the Ruhr.

A junction of the Canadian and American Ninth Armies, less than 29 miles apart, might trap 15 of Germany's best divisions.

A "break-through blackout" of news cloaked movements of the Ninth Army, last reported within 13 miles of Duesseldorf.

The blackout hid news of what had the prospect of being the greatest American victory since the St. Lo break-through. The Germans were surrendering at the rate of 5000 to 10,000 a day and the only resistance mentioned was described offi-

Ibn Saud Admires Wheel Chair; Roosevelt Presents Him With One

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL CRUISER IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, Feb. 18 (AP) (Delayed).—Probably no chief of state ever before presented a wheel chair to another chief of state, but that was President's Roosevelt's gift to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Reporters who joined the Chief Executive today to return home with him learned that the Arabian monarch, who finds it somewhat difficult to get around because he was wounded nine times in battle in his younger years, saw Roosevelt in a wheel chair and admired it. He said one of the chairs would save him many steps at home.

Whether it was a hint or not, Roosevelt dug up a spare and gave it with proper flourishes to the massive, black-bearded ruler.

Sailor a Human Bomb 47 Days, Had 20-Mm. Live Shell in Body

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28 (AP)—After 47 days as a human bomb, Dewey Dupre, 20 years old, is able to take a hard knock now without fear he will blow up.

Twelfth naval district headquarters disclosed today that a successful operation had been performed at the naval receiving hospital here to remove a fused 20-mm. projectile from the body of Dupre, a seaman, second class, from Opelousas, La.

He was at his station as gun loader aboard a battleship at Lingayen Gulf on Jan. 9 when an air attack came. "The first thing I knew," he said, "I was lying on the deck with a compound fracture of my left leg and other injuries about my chest."

Convalescing nicely here, he told doctors last Saturday that he felt there was "something" inside him, low in his body. Surgeons, thinking they had missed a piece of shrapnel, ordered X-rays. The pictures disclosed the fused shell.

"Because the projectile was of such a sensitive type and might explode on contact even with an operating instrument, the situation still remained full of danger," they said. Bomb disposal experts as well as medical men were consulted. In a tense atmosphere, Comdr. J. I. Hall operated successfully, with no explosion.

cially as "negligible to moderate."

The four attacking Allied armies captured more than 8000 German soldiers yesterday.

Pilots reported long columns of German transport rushing back to the Rhine for a getaway. Thousands of Allied planes strafed and bombed the retreating troops.

German civilian refugees were reported streaming by the thousands into Duesseldorf as Nazi defenses gave way before the avalanche of Allied men, tanks and guns.

Crossing of Erft.

First Army troops slipped across the Erft last night and captured a bridge intact. The other crossings were made at points where there were no bridges.

One of the crossing points was near Modrath, which is on the main Dueren-Cologne highway.

During the day, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges sent tanks and self-propelled guns across the streams to join infantrymen and they pushed deeper into the plain.

Although somewhat heavier German resistance was met east of the river, Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead reported that the indications were that "the enemy is capable of making only a rearguard fight to the Rhine."

Ninth Army Positions.

Under censorship restrictions, only these positions of Ninth Army units were permitted to be disclosed:

Thirtieth (Old Hickory) Infantry Division at Koenigshoven, on the Erft, and Garzweiller, 13 miles southwest of Duesseldorf.

Eighty-fourth (Rail Splitters) Infantry Division at Waldniel, west of Muenchen Gladbach.

Thirty-fifth (Sante Fe) Infantry Division at Wassenberg, Orsbeck and Luchtenberg, all about eight miles west of Erkelenz. This division, formerly in Gen. Patton's Third Army, contains a large number of men from Missouri, Kansas and adjoining states.

The Ninth Army met some King Tiger tanks in the onslaught toward the Rhine. The German high command communique said 100 tanks of the Ninth Army were knocked out yesterday.

Third Army Front.

The Third Army was encountering resistance in the Moselle Valley and the Eifels, principally from mine fields and strong points.

The Fourth Armored Division reached the Kyll River within two miles of Kyllburg, enemy strongpoint.

Trier was being enveloped from both north and south. On the south, the Tenth Armored Division, which had driven east from the Saar River to a point 10 miles southeast of Trier, cut north to within four miles of the city.

On the north, the Seventy-Sixth Infantry Division reached a point seven miles northwest of Trier. Also on the move in this area was the Fifth Infantry Division, which captured Bitburg, and the Fourtth Armored Division.

Calcar Captured.

British troops of the Canadian Army captured Calcar and took three more miles of footing on the west bank of the Rhine. German defenses on the Maas weakened. At several points, white flags appeared on houses.

Gen. Henry Crerar's Canadian Army had cleared 44 miles of the western bank of the Rhine from north of Nijmegen to Honnepel.

Gen. Crerar told correspondents that his offensive, hitting the northern front with an avalanche of tanks, infantry and guns, was showing "very great promise."

With the Canadians clearing the west bank of the Lower Rhine and the American First and Ninth Armies beating close to it where the river courses through the Ruhr, an uppermost question was whether the Allies would be able to win an immediate crossing.

The Rhine is from 1250 to 1500 feet wide at Bonn; 1300 to 1700 feet wide at Cologne; and 3270 feet wide at Emmerich, opposite which the Canadians stand.

It was considered likely that plans and equipment for a crossing have been prepared.

The haze which had prevailed on the west front for two days broke today and fighter-bombers were active over the battle zones.

LONDON SPECULATES ON VISIT BY ROOSEVELT AND STALIN

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Diplomats in London said today that President Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin possibly might visit Britain during coming months.

The President is likely to visit first, perhaps even before the end of the war with Germany, they said. Stalin would come later, if at all, and certainly not before Germany falls.

Tank Pioneer of Patton School Leading 9th Army Dash to Rhine

Maj. Gen. Gillem, Who Trained 60,000 Men, Gets First Real Chance in Battle.

By ROBERT EUNSON

WITH THE UNITED STATES NINTH ARMY, Feb. 27 (Delayed) (AP).—Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson disclosed tonight that it was units of Maj. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem Jr.'s Thirteenth Corps which broke loose today in a dash for the Rhine.

Gillem was a pioneer in armoring the United States Army. He started out 10 years ago with Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., and Maj. Gen. Ernest M. Harmon to convince the American Army it must concentrate on tanks. But when the actual fighting began, Gillem was kept at home to train men while other armored command generals were riding through Africa and France.

Tonight Gillem's Eighty-fourth and One Hundred and Second Infantry Divisions were following tanks to the Rhine in the Ninth Army's push.

When Patton was given command of the First Armored Division, Gillem got the second armored, but did not take it overseas. In December, 1942, he took over the Second Armored Corps, and then was given command of the Armored Force until it was changed to the Armored Command with headquarters at Fort Knox, Ky.

He began training tank men for the African campaign on the deserts of Arizona and California, and 60,000 men who later fought in Africa learned from Gillem how to use their armor.

MAJ. GEN. A. C. GILLEM JR.

The small 57-year-old general organized the Thirteenth Corps, now part of the Ninth Army, and brought it overseas in July, 1944. The corps has been in operation in England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany, but this is its first really big show.

Gillem's paternal grandfather was a Union general in the Civil War and his father was a colonel of cavalry in the First World War. His son, Alvan, flew 90 missions as a fighter pilot in the Mediterranean theater.

Maj. Gen. Raymond S. McLain is leading another of the Ninth Army's spearheads, the Nineteenth Corps. McLain, an Oklahoma City bank president, commanded the Thirtieth Infantry Division in Normandy, took command of the Ninetieth Infantry Division in August and was made corps commander in November.

STIMSON CONTRADICTS HINES ON RELEASES

Estimate of 200,000 a Month After Reich Defeat 'Without Foundation.'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Testimony before the House Appropriations Committee by Veterans Administration Frank T. Hines that the War Department plans to release from 200,000 to 250,000 soldiers monthly after Germany's defeat was described as "without foundation" today by Secretary of War Stimson.

Stimson said the basic elements of the Department's demobilization plan made public last Sept. 6 have not been changed.

"When hostilities cease in Europe," Stimson said, "the War Department intends to marshal against the Japanese every soldier and every item of equipment that can be used effectively to speed our final victory."

Shipping priority will be given to the transfer of men and materials to the Pacific areas, he said. This "tremendous undertaking," Stimson said, must be done "with all possible speed and vigor or we will pay a heavy price in the higher casualties of a longer Japanese war."

All speed consistent with the military situation will be observed in returning men who can be released from the Army overseas, he said, but added: "Any suggestion that large numbers will be coming home for discharge immediately after the fighting stops in Europe can only lead to cruel disappointment."

MARINES ADVANCE SLIGHTLY IN HEAVY ATTACKS ON IWO

the barren island. Monday night Marine artillery broke up a tankled counterattack.

Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine's Third Marine Division, which has counted 800 enemy pillboxes in its zone of action, inched northward and westward from the virtually captured fighter base Tuesday.

On the right flank, Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates' Fourth Division, which on Monday captured the vital artillery observation position of Hill 382, straightened its line around that promontory.

There was no mention in Adm. Chester W. Nimitz's communique of any gains on the left flank by Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey's Fifth Marine Division, last reported assailing Hill 362 which is 70 yards east of the Hiraiwa Bay coastline.

Marine artillery, warship guns, land-based and carrier-based planes covered Tuesday's slow drive. An observer reported watching Liberators from the Marianas score direct hits with 500-pound bombs on pillboxes and "a building which looked like a concrete communications" center.

Gains 'Limited.'

Sgt. Martin S. Lipman, Philadelphia, was has been on 25 missions over Iwo, said it is "so bomb-scarred it looks like there is nothing left of the vegetation."

Yet the Japanese fight on. They are getting no additional supplies, no reinforcements, no naval support and virtually no air support. They are so crazed for drinking water they infiltrate American lines primarily for that purpose.

In contrast, the Marine invaders gather strength hourly as an increasing flow of supplies piles up on the beaches.

Yet this morning's communique characterized gains as "limited" and said enemy fire was heavy all Tuesday, falling even in rear areas and in the sectors where supplies are being landed.

Enemy Radio Reports.

The Japanese Domei news agency broadcast a dispatch saying Japanese troops "so far are successfully holding their own" against a new American "general offensive." The Domei report claimed the Marines suffered 1500 casualties between Monday noon and Tuesday night making a total of "20,000 casualties in the American invasion forces in nine days of fighting."

NAZIS THROW IN ERSATZ TROOPS WITH OLD RIFLES

Dregs of Volkssturm in Front Lines in West — Even Regulars Show Reluctance to Fight.

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE U. S. TIMBERWOLF DIVISION ATTACKING TOWARD THE RHINE, Feb. 28 (AP). — Members of the Volkssturm, Hitler's ragtag homefront army, have been taken prisoner in frontline areas of the battle for the Rhine and indications are multiplying that the German high command is having great difficulty in manning its side of the battlefront.

Maj. Gen. Terry Allen's 104th Infantry Division Timberwolves captured 20 Volkssturm men at Golzheim, northeast of Dueren. They wore civilian suits and the only thing to indicate they were serving in the army was a small red ribbon around the lower left sleeve identifying them as Volkssturm. During the French campaign many German commanders refused to recognize similar "uniforms" worn by French Maquis and F. F. I. fighters and shot those they took prisoner on the ground that they did not constitute a regular army.

The Volkssturm men were militarily of poor grade and were armed only with rifles, many old and outdated. They said they hadn't been used for "tactical purposes"—that is to hold regular battle positions—but had been assigned to police duties or set to building roads or serving as observers.

They themselves were even "double ersatz" troops because the regular village Volkssturm unit had pulled out three days before with the retreating Wehrmacht forces.

The enemy high command has issued stern orders that every officer and enlisted man on this front fight to the "last drop of blood." This order is being consistently disobeyed by thousands of frontline Nazi units which have capitulated.

Most regular German soldiers are showing increasing reluctance to die for their Fuehrer in battle. Some are showing considerable reluctance even to engage in battle.

JAPANESE ATTACK EAST OF MANILA IS BEATEN OFF

day by the Twenty-fourth Division.

This cleared the western end of the main navigational route through the central Philippines. Other Yank forces secured the eastern side last week by invading Capul and Biri islands.

Prior to beating off the Japanese banzai attacks in the Marakina sector, the Sixth Division had captured Mount Mataba, 15 miles northeast of Manila, and seized most of 1500-foot Mount Pacawuan after scaling almost vertical cliffs and overcoming strong defense positions.

This drove a wedge into the enemy's 25-mile Sierra Madre defense system, known as the Shimbu line. Heavy bombers dropped 155 tons of explosives on enemy positions along this line in advance of American troops.

The First Cavalry Division came up against heavy artillery, mortar and machine-gun fire in the Antipolo sector, 15 miles due east of Manila. This was taken as an indication of Japanese strength developing in this area.

The Yanks captured large quantities of equipment and supplies, including nine artillery pieces, 39 caissons and 138 motor vehicles.

1100 U.S. BOMBERS POUND 5 GERMAN RAILWAY YARDS

R. A. F. Hits Ruhr Benzol Plant — Brenner Rail Line Heavily Bombed by Yanks From Italy.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—More than 1100 United States heavy bombers attacked at least five major freight yards in a 100-mile circle behind the Rhine today in the third week of a sustained offensive against German communications.

Targets included Kassel, Soest, 15 miles southeast of Hamm; Siegen, 40 miles east of Cologne; and Schwerte and Hagen, both in the southeast corner of the Ruhr.

Royal Air Force Lancasters made a concentrated attack on the Nordstern benzol plant near Gelsnekirchen in the Ruhr.

United States Fifteenth Air Force heavy bombers and Twelfth Air Force mediums from Italy struck the Brenner Pass rail line today in one of the heaviest bombings of that line.

Liberators and Flying Fortresses hit the 472-foot Verona bridge on the Brenner line, a 335-foot span at Isarco Albes, and railyards at Ora, Bressan, Fortrezza, Vipitano, and Bolzano on the Brenner line.

Italy-based United States fighters strafed and bombed rail targets in Austria, including ammunition trains in the Villach and Linz areas.

On the Western Front, medium bombers pounded Geldern, between the Canadian and United States Ninth armies, and fighter bombers strafed ferryboats and barges on the Rhine and attacked fortified villages in the whole arc around Munchen Gladbach.

During the night, Royal Air Force Mosquitoes made two separate raids on Berlin. Port installations at Bremen, where the Nazis are said to be rushing work on new-type submarines, also were bombed last night.

More than 1000 tons of bombs were dropped by United States Fifteenth Air Force heavy bombers in the Augsburg railway yards, 30 miles northwest of Munich, yesterday, causing widespread damage.

The main strength of yesterday's 900-bomber R. A. F. attack was directed against the communications center of Mainz and against a gasoline plant near Gelsenkirchen, in the Ruhr. Three R. A. F. planes were lost from the day and night operations.

ROOSEVELT SINGS AT CHURCH SERVICE ON BOARD CRUISER

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL CRUISER IN THE ATLANTIC, Feb. 25 (AP) (Delayed).—President Roosevelt, seated on a windy deck among sailors and officers, attended church services today aboard the ship bringing him home from the Crimea conference. On either side were manned anti-aircraft guns.

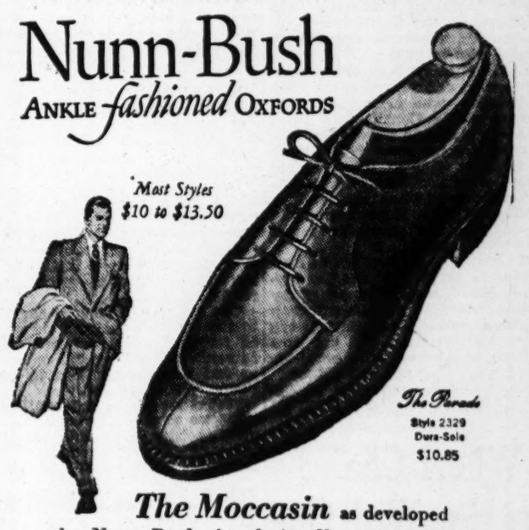

Roosevelt joined in singing several familiar hymns, reading biblical passages, and bowed his head in a moment of silent prayer for Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, his military aide and secretary, who died aboard ship Feb. 20.

644 SQUARE MILE OF TOKYO IN RUINS FROM B-29 RAID

644 Acres of Industrial Area Devastated by 200-Plane Attack, Photographs Disclose.

By LEIF ERICKSON

TWENTY-FIRST BOMBER COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Feb. 28 (AP).—Two hundred and forty city blocks of Tokyo's most highly congested industrial and business district are in smouldering, twisted ruins today as a result of Sunday's Superfortress raid, Twenty-first Bomber Command Headquarters announced today.

The greatest punishment yet dealt the Japanese capital was inflicted without the loss of one B-29 of the more than 200 which participated in stormy weather—the largest B-29 force ever employed in one raid.

Maj. Gen. Curtis Lemay, commander of the Marianas-based B-29 force, said the reconnaissance photographs show results were "excellent." The photos show 29,074,000 square feet of important factory and trade areas burned out. This is 667 acres, slightly more than a square mile. (About one-half the area of Forest Park in St. Louis.)

The ravaged area starts a short distance from Emperor Hirohito's moated palace and extends eastward to the crowded waterfront.

Uene railroad station and marshaling yard, one of the three most important transportation centers in Tokyo, was swept by fire, photographs show. The station, which is elevated, handled about 300 trains daily.

The Superfortress assault was made in co-ordination with Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier-based plane attack which hit earlier in the morning and knocked out two aircraft plants in the northwestern suburbs. After hearing his pilots' reports, Mitscher said: "I don't believe the Japs will get them back into production for this war."

The B-29 damage was wreaked while snow was falling. Bombardiers called "bombs away" while some of their pilots could not see the wingtips of their own planes due to the heavy cloud formations. The remarkable results attest to the efficiency of precision radio bombing instruments.

ROMANIAN PREMIER RESIGNS UNDER FIRE

Bucharest Radio Announcement Follows Arrival of Soviet Diplomat.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—Premier Gen. Nicolae Radescu of Romania has resigned, the Bucharest radio announced today, in a crisis in which his Government has been under heavy pressure from the leftist National Democratic front.

The resignation followed by a few hours the disclosure that Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet Vice Commissar of Foreign Affairs, had arrived in the Romanian capital.

Romania lies with in the sphere of influence of Russia, but under the Yalta agreement Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union are pledged to "consult together" on any action necessary.

TWO SETS OF CANDIDATES FILE FOR BELLEVILLE CITY OFFICES

Two complete sets of candidates for Belleville city offices were filed yesterday shortly before the deadline for filing for the city elections April 3. No primary is held and candidates file on nonpartisan tickets after securing signatures to petitions of 5 per cent of the total number of voters in the previous mayoralty election.

Mayor Roland W. Jung filed for election to his second four-year term as head of the Administration party, and Chief Supervisor Ernest W. Tiemann, relief administrator in Belleville, filed for Mayor on the Victory party ticket. Offices to be filled include those of City Clerk, Treasurer, Police Magistrate, Chief Supervisor, seven aldermen, and five Justices of the Peace.

WLB SETS WAGE RATE MINIMUM AT 55 CENTS AN HOUR

Says Level Is Necessary to Maintain Living Standard — About 4 Million Getting Less.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The War Labor Board places at 55 cents the minimum hourly wage rate necessary to maintain a wartime living standard.

Its regional boards were authorized yesterday to approve hourly rates up to 55 cents where employers voluntarily ask for the increase or the union and employer make the request.

Approximately four million workers, mainly in textiles, service trades and some lumbering and turpentine operations, are receiving less than 55 cents an hour, WLB Chairman William H. Davis told reporters.

"Unfortunately," Davis said, the board's action "doesn't mean that all four million are going to get 55 cents tomorrow."

Effect of the action, he explained, is that WLB finds that at least 55 cents is necessary to maintain living standards, "but it doesn't mean that 55 cents is enough to maintain a decent standard of living."

Any wage adjustments under the ruling are subject to approval by Economic Stabilizer Vinson to determine that they will not disturb prices.

The board last week approved a 55-cent minimum wage for workers in 23 Southern, 25 New England and six New York and Pennsylvania cotton and rayon mills.

HOTEL MANAGER FINED $400 IN LIQUOR SALE ABOVE CEILING

Morris Steinbaum, resident manager of the Kings-Way Hotel today was fined $400 and sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment by United States Judge George H. Moore after pleading no contest to charges of having violated the internal revenue laws and Office of Price Administration ceiling prices in selling seven cases of black market whisky.

Steinbaum's attorney told the court his client had merely sought to accommodate Curley Stinson of Kansas City, who introduced himself as a friend of Steinbaum's son, a Kansas City hotel manager. Stinson was arrested in Kansas City a few days after the transaction as a bootlegger. At the time of his arrest, he had four of the seven cases in his possession.

Steinbaum, who sold the cases to Stinson at $99 above the OPA ceiling price, was placed on one year's probation by Judge Moore upon payment of the fine.

EAST ST. LOUIS TO SHARE IN U. S. WAR HOUSING FUND

National Housing Administrator John B. Blandford Jr. said in Washington, D. C., yesterday that East St. Louis was one of 10 communities in "critical need" of war housing which would be financed by an $84,373,000 appropriation approved by a House of Representatives committee. He added that war housing needs change rapidly and final plans could not be made until funds were available.

N. Ralph Huff, resident manager of the St. Clair County Housing Authority, said today that he has 300 applications for defense housing which cannot be satisfied with present facilities. There are 400 families living in defense housing units in East St. Louis, he said.

GERMAN RATIONS CUT AGAIN; FOOD NEEDED FOR REFUGEES

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—German food rations were cut again today because of the "necessity for feeding refugees from the occupied areas of the east," DNB announced in a radio dispatch. A week ago a 12½ per cent reduction was announced.

In addition to making rations for an eight-week period cover nine weeks, the government ordered a reduction in bread, meat, cheese and fat allocations.

Farmers were ordered to surrender one-fourth of the potatoes which they normally had been allowed to keep for themselves.

COMMENT ON NEW CHARTER BY CITY, STATE LEADERS

All of Missouri to Benefit, Says Blake—Governor and Mayor Praise Results.

Robert E. Blake, chairman of the 1943-44 Constitutional Convention, said today that St. Louis County stands to receive more benefits than any other section of the state from the adoption of the new constitution.

"While the whole state will benefit," he said, "it happens, not as the result of any plan, but because of St. Louis County's growth in population, that it may get more benefit from the new provisions than other counties.

"Of the 22 cities in Missouri which will be entitled to write charters for their own government under the new provisions, six are in St. Louis County. The county itself has the same privilege of establishing home rule. I do not know just how soon any action will be taken to avail the county of the new privileges, but I know that the St. Louis County Chamber of Commerce is keenly alive to the possibilities."

Blake, who lives at 121 Plant avenue, Webster Groves, spoke of the episode of electing delegates, their deliberations of more than a year, and yesterday's action by the people, as a "demonstration of the processes of democracy in its purest form."

Governor's Comment.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, who returned to his home town, Lebanon, yesterday to cast his vote for the Constitution, said after returning to Jefferson City and receiving partial figures on the State vote:

"The people of Missouri have decided to bring the State government up to date. The Legislature now will have the opportunity of putting into effect the necessary legislation to put our State on a modern basis."

Mayor's Views.

Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann, a supporter of the new code, said:

"My sincere congratulations to the people of Missouri upon the vitally progressive forward step in providing a more modern foundation upon which to conduct an efficient State government. The campaign for the adoption of the Constitution was in the best American tradition. Proponents urged its advantages and opponents brought to the attention of the people their objections. The people have spoken and Missouri now embarks upon a new era of efficient, effective and progressive administration of its affairs.

"The great newspapers, radio stations and citizens' organizations which led this crusade are entitled to the congratulations and gratitude of the people of Missouri for achieving this signal step forward."

"Fine Job," Says Briggs.

United States Senator Frank P. Briggs, who voted yesterday at his home in Macon, said while in St. Louis today on his return to Washington:

"Missouri's voters did a fine job. Much work lies ahead for the Legislature in passing legislation to adapt the new charter, but we are on the way to streamlining our state government. I am happy and proud of the new constitution and the state's acceptance of it."

Mrs. George Gellhorn, president of the St. Louis League of Women Voters and secretary of the St. Louis Committee for the New Constitution, stressed the part taken by the women in the success of the movement.

"The women of our churches, clubs, civic and patriotic organizations," Mrs. Gellhorn said, "worked thoroughly and thoughtfully to pass the new Constitution, to give Missouri a document to fit not only our times, but the times for our children and grandchildren.

"And congratulations to the Post-Dispatch. We couldn't have had such results without its help."

Small-Loan Firms May Have to Quit State, Says Lichtenstein.

Small-loan concerns will be forced to quit Missouri if the State Legislature, acting under the new constitution, reduces their present annual interest rates of 30 to 36 per cent, David B. Lichtenstein, head of the small-loan lobby, said today.

Exactly what reduction in rates would result in the departure of the loan companies, which have enjoyed a monopoly that is destroyed by the new code, Lichtenstein declined to say.

He called attention, however, to the wording of the constitutional provision which states that the rate of interest to be fixed by the Legislature "shall be applicable generally" and said in his opinion there was a possibility the Legislature would not reduce the small-loan rates but leave them as they are, permitting banks and other agencies to charge them.

Asked how much money the loan concerns poured into the campaign against adoption of the constitution, which in the last few days flooded the state with literature and was financed by sources still shrouded in mystery, Lichtenstein said: "You are making a ridiculous assumption. I am not going to answer any questions along that line."

Frank B. Williams, chairman of the executive committee of the Association Against the Proposed Constitution, said at his home in Springfield that "the Legislature will not be able to implement the many contradictory and confusing provisions in the new document. Their honest efforts to do so will produce laws fruitful of litigation. It is an impossible and unworkable document and will be altered in time."

Leo J. Clavin, executive director of the association, who, on demand of the United States Treasury Department retracted a statement made by the association that income from war bonds would be taxable, could not be reached today. At his home in Salisbury it was said he had "gone to the country."

In the course of the bitter campaign waged by the Constitution's opponents, the Post-Dispatch disclosed that more than $12,000 was paid to mail some 600,000 pieces of propaganda advocating rejection of the code, and that other mailing pieces were addressed with stencils obtained from the office of State Auditor Forrest Smith.

Leaders in Campaign for Constitution

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED, MAJORITY OF 140,000 LIKELY

of the 2936 outstate precincts showing a lead of 8020 for adoption. It is possible that this lead will be lowered by complete rural returns.

In Effect in 3 Weeks.

The constitution will go into effect as soon as the official canvass of votes is completed, which will be in about three weeks, although all present statute which are in conflict with the provisions of the new constitution will remain in effect until July 1, 1946, unless repealed before that time by the Legislature.

Adoption of the constitution will require many statutory changes and it is expected the Legislature will be at least a year in making the necessary revisions. More than 40 mandatory provisions will require legislative action, and there are many other provisions presenting opportunities for remedial legislation to improve the administration of the state and local governments.

A joint committee of the Senate and House was created several weeks ago to prepare a program for the Legislature, the purpose being to prepare the bills which are mandatory. Most of the preparation of the bills will be by the Committee on Legislative Research.

There will be no disruption of state administration in the transition of operation from the old to the new constitutions, the framers of the new document allowing ample time, more than a year, for needed legislation to be enacted.

Bitter Campaign.

The campaign preceding the election was a particularly bitter one, the opposition sending out more than a million pamphlets containing gross misrepresentations of the provisions of the document. Most of these were circulated far enough in advance for the committee promoting adoption to counteract any effect they might have by a presentation of the facts.

The leaders of the opposition were former Probate Judge Frank B. Williams of Springfield and O. C. Tee of Hamilton, delegates to the convention which wrote the constitution, and Leo J. Clavin, Circuit Clerk of Chariton County, who served as director of the association formed to oppose adoption. Each of the three lost his own county. Greene County, Williams' home, gave a majority of 2668 for adoption. Chariton County gave a majority of 333, and Caldwell County, Tee's home, gave a majority of 240.

There was much mystery surrounding the Williams-Clavin organization, Clavin refusing to supply any information as to how it was financed to conduct a campaign estimated to have cost more than $100,000. However, the small-loan interests were generally thought to have contributed the major portion of the money, their opposition being due to a provision in the new document prohibiting the Legislature from granting preferential loan rates to any class of lenders. Under the old Constitution the Legislature permitted these companies to charge interest rates of 30 and 36 per cent a year, while the maximum rate permitted most lenders was 8 per cent.

Must File Accounting.

While throughout the campaign the opposition organization, styled Association X Against Proposed Constitution, maintained secrecy as to the source of its funds, the law requires that it file a detailed report of all receipts and expenditures within 30 days after the election. The treasurer of the organization must file this statement with the Recorder in his home county. It has never made public the name of the treasurer.

Failure to file the report is punishable by a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500.

new Constitution among Democratic leaders, Committeeman L. Jean Gualdoni of the Twenty-fourth Ward, the "Hill" district south of Forest Park, failed to make a strong adverse showing; the Twenty-fourth voted approval, 3845 to 941.

The Republican City Committee decided to support the new Constitution, while the Democratic City Committee left the question to its ward members. Committee members of each party actually divided in their stand, some favoring the proposal, some actively opposing it and others remaining passive.

Women Voters League Active.

Special efforts were made by the League of Women Voters to get a favorable vote in the Fifteenth (South Side), Twenty-third (southwest) and Twenty-seventh (northwest) Wards, in the belief balloting might have been light in those districts. Combined results in those three wards were: Yes, 14,445, and no, 2552—a favorable majority of 11,893.

Average majority in favor of the new document in the 24 wards approving it was 2725. Strongest support came from the South Side, West End and southwestern and northwestern residential areas. Most topheavy results were in two principal West End wards, as follows: Twenty-fifth, 5488 to 439, and Twenty-eighth, 5534 to 656. Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann's home ward, the north end First, favored the proposition by 4252 to 1090.

In contrast to the prewar forces of public employes lining up voters for party slates, there were about 6000 public school children active in the city yesterday afternoon, using politically tested methods to bring out the electorate in behalf of the organization supporting the new Constitution. They worked on a voluntary basis, following a long period of study and discussion of the new instrument in the classrooms. Superintendent of Instruction Philip J. Hickey emphasized that the proposal was not regarded as a political issue, but civic.

Working under direction of teachers, about 1000 high school students were excused from classes to call on persons who had not yet voted, and to make personal calls on voters in general, while about 5000 children from the seventh and eighth elementary grades saw virtually all voters who had signed cards pledging to the campaign organization that they would vote favorably.

In St. Louis County, chief opposition to the new constitution came in the districts of farms and small homes. Lemay Township was against it, with 1667 yes and 1981 no, 15 of the 20 precincts there giving unfavorable majorities. All five precincts of Meramec Township were opposed, the total being 239 for to 511 against. The favorable majority was small in St. Ferdinand Township, also an agricultural area—3274 to 2728.

Results in the other townships, with the heaviest voting and the heaviest favorable majorities in such suburban centers as University City, Clayton and parts of Richmond Heights, were: Clayton Township, 13,225 to 1720; Jefferson, 8346 to 1543; Normandy, 6606 to 2469; Gravois, 3954 to 847; Bonhomme, 2712 to 1470. Generally the voting was light in neighborhoods of smaller homes, but nearly all precincts were favorable. Seven of the eight predominantly Negro precincts gave a combined vote of 214 yes and 547 no, while the eighth, in Webster Groves, voted for the proposal, 43 to 42.

Combined favorable majority for the new Constitution in St. Louis and St. Louis County was 89,809, or nearly two-thirds of the state-wide majority. Results were: St. Louis, yes, 94,770, and no, 31,715, a favorable majority of 63,055; St. Louis County, yes, 40,023, and no, 13,269, a favorable majority of 26,754. In both city and county the result was almost exactly 3 to 1 in support of the measure.

The balloting was unexpectedly heavy here and unusually large for a special election. Total vote in the city was 126,485, or 33.1 per cent of the registration of 382,238. This compared with the vote in the important state primary last August (159,456) and in the last aldermanic election, in April, 1943 (97,348). It was more than one-third of the vote in the presidential election last November.

The county's total vote was 53,292, or 38.9 per cent of the registration of 137,070.

GANGSTER HOGAN KILLED, CREMATED, EX-CONVICT SAYS

Body Thrown in Burning Slag Pit, Robbery Suspect Tells Illinois Officers.

An ex-convict robbery suspect has told Herrin (Ill.) authorities that Patrick Hogan, missing gangster who was believed to have been killed in a mysterious shooting at Club Royal gambling casino near Belleville, Ill., last October, was killed and his body thrown into a slag pit of a mine on the outskirts of West Frankfort, Ill.

The story was related to Chief of Police W. W. Parker, Mayor Fred Henderson, both of Herrin, and State's Attorney Lan Haney of Williamson County, after the ex-convict had been arrested in connection with an investigation of a series of robberies, burglaries, arson and thefts of automobiles. The suspect, who confessed his part in the crimes, is Allis (Dink) Whallin, alias Ray Wheland.

Whallin related, according to Chief of Police Parker, that he overheard a conversation among associates to the effect that the body was cremated in the slag pit of Old Ben Mine No. 8. The suspect could not name the participants in the conversation, but added that the "man who put the body in the pit is now dead." Further questioning elicited the information that he referred to Monroe (Blackie) Armes, since killed in a gunfight at Herrin.

Roy (Tony) Armes, a brother of "Blackie," is one of five men arrested this week with Whallin in connection with 10 crimes in Southern Illinois. Armes is now out on bond, according to Chief Parker, who has applied for warrants against the men.

The slag pit has been burning constantly for more than 20 years and Chief Parker said a search of the pit, over which a blue flame hovers constantly, would be impossible.

Hogan, whose real name is Patrick Burleson, has not been seen since the alleged killing. His wife, who now lives in Searcy, Ark., has told associates she believed he was dead because he had never communicated with her.

Chief Parker recovered two watches and four rings as well as a sawed-off shotgun and a small caliber pistol in the home of a St. Louisan where Whallin had hidden them. The loot was from burglaries in and around Herrin.

BEEF POINT VALUES ADJUSTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Point values on choice beef cuts will be slightly lower beginning Sunday while the ration cost of cheaper beef will be increased a little.

The OPA has decided on this adjustment, it was learned yesterday, because in some areas, mainly producing centers, high-point cuts have not been moving. On the other hand, low values on such cuts as flank and brisket have caused a scarcity of those items.

CHARTER WINS AT ST. CHARLES

Returns from 23 out of 38 precincts in St. Charles showed 1785 votes for the Constitution and 753 against it. About 3000 votes were cast, 25 per cent of the normal vote.

Robert V. Niedner, prosecuting attorney, and Prof. Homer Clevenger of the Linwood College faculty, campaigned actively for the Constitution. No open campaign was made by its opponents, but the county was flooded with anti-constitution pamphlets.

RED CROSS TO OPEN DRIVE FOR $2,740,000 TOMORROW

12,000 Workers Ready for House-to-House Canvass in City and County—Kaufmann Urges Support.

Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann urged liberal support today for the Red Cross Fund campaign which opens here tomorrow with 12,000 volunteer workers prepared to make a house-to-house solicitation in order to achieve the goal by March 19. A quota of $2,740,000 has been set for St. Louis and St. Louis County.

"Dollars given to the fund lose their character as money and become instruments of helpfulness to those in sorest need," Mayor Kaufmann declared in a pre-campaign radio address over Post-Dispatch Radio Station KSD. He said it was "amazing" how the Red Cross does all its work, yet seldom calls for aid.

"Answering its plea for financial aid is to me a high and noble privilege," Mayor Kaufmann said, "and I know the citizens of St. Louis share this view."

The Red Cross, he pointed out, constitutes a world organization that works. It is the only international union, Mayor Kaufmann added, which has survived "the apparent determination of the world in other fields to divide itself into factions and attempt to enthrone the law of the jungle, rather than the law of peaceful and amicable relationships among men."

Final instructions were given campaign workers at a meeting yesterday, addressed by Mrs. E. J. Walsh, chairman of the city home solicitation division, and other leaders.

The door-to-door solicitors will seek contributions not collected through factories, offices, schools and theaters. Each solicitor will carry an official identification card. Families giving to the Red Cross will receive from the solicitor a white window sticker bearing the organization's emblem. Contributors will receive small lapel flags.

Both John I. Rollings, executive secretary of the AFL Central Trades and Labor Union, and Oscar A. Ehrhardt, executive secretary of the CIO St. Louis Industrial Union Council, indorsed the campaign yesterday.

Rollings said it was the patriotic duty of each AFL member to contribute and Ehrhardt urged CIO members to "supply the necessary funds to enable this organization to continue its splendid work."

A Red Cross campaign rally of students at Washington University will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at Graham Memorial Chapel. The principal speaker will be Dudley Emmert, a field director who returned recently from a 7000-mile tour in the China-Burma-India theater.

CITY AUTO LICENSE OFFICE TO BE OPEN UNTIL 8 TONIGHT

The city license collector's office in City Hall and the State Automobile License Bureau, 420 North Fourth street, will remain open until 8 o'clock tonight to enable war workers to purchase automobile licenses without interfering with working hours.

License Collector Frank A. Britton said the deadline for purchase of city automobile license stickers, originally set for tomorrow would be extended. He said he had not decided on the expiration date of the extension. Deadline for purchase of State licenses is March 6.

Regular hours for the State office are 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily and the city office from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. Both offices close at noon on Saturday.

FIRM TO DROP CERTAIN CLAIMS IN ADVERTISING OF 'ACQUIN'

Misrepresentation of the therapeutic properties of a medicinal preparation known as "Acquin" will be discontinued under a stipulation entered into with the Federal Trade Commission by Gottlieb Bass, trading as Acquin Pharmacal Co., 8005 Alabama avenue, and Clark F. Ross, trading as the Ross Advertising Service, 1031 Big Bend boulevard, Richmond Heights, the commission announced yesterday.

Ross and Bass agreed to stop representing that the preparation will overcome fatigue, cure headaches, or relieve congestion due to headaches or head colds, or that it is prescribed by doctors for the relief of minor aches or pains.

JUDGES PLAN FURTHER INQUIRY TOMORROW ON SHERIFF'S AIDS

Circuit Judges, investigating the appointees of Sheriff John F. Dougherty, have tentatively planned to resume their inquiry into police records of the deputy sheriffs tomorrow, Presiding Judge Edward M. Ruddy said today. Resumption of the investigation will depend, he said, on the number of cases on the Circuit Court dockets.

Nine deputies who testified yesterday were Charles Hade, Robert Swanson, Negro; Arthur McLoed, Richard Mahfood, Morris Ollanik, assistant chief deputy; Carl Glass, Negro; Venerable Slater, Negro; James Durant and Fred Beumer. With testimony from these deputies, the judges have heard from 18 of the 87 deputies in the Sheriff's office. They have announced their intention of interviewing all deputies.

Investigation of Sheriff Dougherty's appointees started last Thursday after the Post-Dispatch had disclosed that many of them have police records, some of them have been convicted, and Sheriff Dougherty, himself, was as recently as last March a part owner of the notorious Hyde Park Club, East Side gambling casino.

SCHOOL REPORT GIVES HOPE FOR PAY BOOSTS

Data Indicates Possible Surplus Instead of Estimated Deficit of $959,000.

Prospects of a $100 annual wartime salary increase for Board of Education employes earning $2900 or more annually appeared brighter today with a report by Auditor William M. Susanka that the board may have a small surplus at the end of the fiscal year rather than an estimated deficit of $959,000.

Susanka prepared figures, showing it seemed likely the board's income will be about $475,000 more than indicated and its expenditures perhaps $500,000 less, at the request of Dr. Francis C. Sullivan, board member, who sent executive officers a letter approving the salary increase, which would amount to mare than $93,000 annually.

Earlier figures compiled by Mervyn E. Wiethaupt, secretary and treasurer of the board, on the basis of budget estimates, indicated the deficit. He prepared his data for the information of the board, which previously voted down the salary increase but left the way open for reconsideration.

Superintendent of Instruction Philip J. Hickey said today he had written the St. Louis Teachers' Cooperative Council, which had requested the increase, that he would take the matter up with the other executive officers.

In a recent report to the board, Hickey, Building Commissioner Joseph P. Sullivan and Supply Commisioner A. K. Nushan approved the increase. Susanka and Wiethaupt did not concur, Wiethaupt pointing out that replacing of present equipment would call for large expenditures in the post-war period.

SLEET BREAKS PHONE LINES

Six Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. construction crews have been rushed from St. Louis to assist in repairing long distance telephone lines in northern Texas, southern Oklahoma, and Arkansas, where sleet storms last night knocked out 800 circuits and isolated several towns from telephone service.

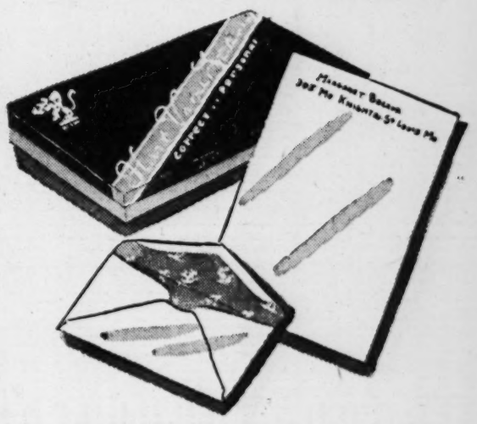

Heaviest damage was caused near Denison, Tex., but service has been restored to some extent there by emergency radio-telephone equipment. Two-thirds of the long distance wires out of Little Rock were down. Company officials expect complete service to be restored within 48 hours.

Roosevelt Back, to Report to Nation

Gibraltar at a time when Nazi submarines were lurking nearby.

Before returning to his desk, Roosevelt took part in a sorrowful interlude — the burial in Arlington National Cemetery of Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, who died at sea Feb. 20 of a cerebral hemmorhage. Gen. Watson accompanied the President to Yalta as secretary and military aide.

To Speak From Well of House.

As its first act today the House adopted a resolution for a joint session tomorrow to hear the President.

Instead of speaking from the Speaker's rostrum in the House chamber, where all other Presidents have stood when they addressed Congress, Roosevelt will speak from the well of the House.

Acting Speaker McCormack said the ramp leading from the floor to the rostrum, which always had been used in the past by Roosevelt, will not be used tomorrow. Instead, McCormack said after a brief talk with the President, Roosevelt will use the microphone on the floor and will "chat" to the members from a chair. The President used the ramp when he last addressed Congress Jan. 7, 1943.

All major networks will carry the broadcast.

At a news conference aboard ship, as his cruiser zig-zagged toward American shores, Roosevelt already had reviewed the Crimea conference and spoken of his aspirations for future world security.

He disclosed to reporters for three major news services, who met him in Algiers and traveled home with him, that the original plan for occupation of Germany was for Russia to take over the eastern area, Britain the west and northwest and the United States the south. This country was to have the area below the bend of the Rhine at Mainz, including the provinces of Baden, Bavaria and Wurttemberg, with a supply corridor to the sea at Bremen on the north.

The arrangement is subject to change, particularly in the proposed British and American zones, because of a decision to offer France an opportunity to keep a thumb on part of the Reich.

The President was not ready to say how long American troops might remain in Germany.

Roosevelt viewed the conference at Yalta as one of a series of steps toward a better world. He said the American public and press were quite right in saying with virtual unanimity that the parley was a great achievement.

He believes the United Nations organization will develop into the best method ever devised for stopping war and eradicating some of its causes.

Roosevelt even visualized German and Japan as future members of the organization, at such time as they have proved themselves worthy of places in it.

He was insistent, however, that they first must purge themselves, reverse militaristic tendencies they have shown for decades and demonstrate an ability to live peaceably among nations.

"Do you think," he asked, "that Germany and Japan should ever in the foreseeable future be permitted to rearm?"

No, he replied, adding that he hoped armament would decrease all along the line, even among the Allied big five—America, Britain, Russia, China and France.

The President predicated his belief that Germany and Japan can do an about-face on the relatively short history of their militarism. Germany became militaristic after 1890, Japan after she first admitted outsiders in 1856, he said. Nations that can do that in such a camparatively short time, he went on, can go the other way —although it may take another 50 or 60 years.

On Secret Agreements.

In discussing the secret agreements, Rosevelt pointed out that one decision omitted from the conference's final communique, disclosed when Turkey declared war on Germany and Japan, was that no power not in the war would be invited to the United States meeting at San Francisco. (Cable dispatches have mentioned March 1 as the deadline for those countries to get into the war.)

Presidential aides did not interpret this as meaning, howeyer, that Russia necessarily would declare war on Japan any time soon. Soviet eligibility, they said, has been well established in the European conflict.

Russia and Pacific War.

The war against Japan, Roosevelt told his news conference, was not even mentioned either at Yalta or at a brief meeting with Churchill later at Alexandria. The British Prime Minister already has stated, he recalled, that Britain will throw all its resources into the battle of the Pacific once Germany is broken.

(In stating that the war against Japan was not mentioned at his Alexandria conference with Churchill, Roosevelt publicly corrected a statement issued at the White House Feb. 20 which described his departure from Yalta and his trip to the Suez and Egypt. That statement said the Alexandria meeting "permitted new and important discussions of at least one subject which they (Roosevelt and Churchill) could not take up before. That had to do with Japan and the war in the Pacific where Soviet Russia is a neutral power."

(This statement was called to the President's attention at his shipboard news conference and he repeated that the Japanese war was not discussed at Alexandria.)

He did not know, he said, whether Russia would be asked to enter any discussion of Pacific problems before the defeat of the Nazis. Russia has been completely neutral toward Japan, he asserted, and we are respecting that neutrality.

The President said he had no plans for a Pacific war council this year with Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang-kai-shek. Nor did he have in mind a talk with Gen. Charles de Gaulle, although he said he would be glad to see the French leader any time.

Roosevelt made the point that America does not realize there will be a long, hard battle to subdue Japan. People blow hot and cold on the subject, he said. And he stressed a need for industrial emphasis on the Pacific war once Germany has capitulated.

Peace and Small Nations.

There was no single accomplishment of the Crimea conference that stood out above the others, Roosevelt declared. He said progress was made all along the line, just as there has been progress toward an improved world every few months since the war began.

"Do you believe," a reporter asked, "that the conference can be the foundation for worldwide peace for more than the generation of the men who are building that peace?"

While that can not be answered categorically, he said, the conference did look ahead over a great many years, over a period as long as humanity can be expected to believe in the principles espoused by the United Nations. It looked at the human race, he added, and not with any idea it will end in 50 years.

In addition, the President said, the conference dwelt at length on problems presented by small countries with static economies and living standards and on means of helping them. This was on the premise that a nation that is not moving forward and bettering its standards is a more potential war danger than one that is advancing.

Presided at Conference.

Aides praised the manner in which Roosevelt presided as chairman and moderator at the conference. They said he was able to prpduce agreements in several fields in which the principals originally did not see eye to eye.

Two instances apparently were the decisions on voting procedure of the projected United Nations council and on a new governmental and territorial set-up for Poland. Roosevelt did not discuss these points with reporters, however.

Of all the top-flight advisers who accompanied Roosevelt to Livada palace, only his personal chief of staff, Adm. William D. Leahy, and his naval aide, Vice Adm. Wilson Brown, returned with him. The others left the party at various points and on various missions.

Presidential Counsel Samuel I. Rosenman joined the President at Algiers to help prepare while crossing the Atlantic the report to Congress and to discuss civilian supplies for liberated areas. Rosenman already had gone to Europe to survey supply requirements.

Mrs. John Boettiger, the chief executive's daughter, made the entire trip, but not in an official capacity. She took care of minor details, such as deciding who would dine with her father.

Fala, the President's Scottie, was left at home.

The westward crossing of the Atlantic, after Watson's death, was

A revealing, surprising statement by a Post Editor just returned from Moscow . . .

HOW RUSSIA WILL FIGHT JAPAN

by Edgar Snow

IN October, 1943—Edgar Snow, keen analyst and student of the Soviet asked this question in a Post article, "Will Russia Fight Japan?"

Now—after months in Russia—Post writer Snow follows with his sequel—"HOW RUSSIA WILL FIGHT JAPAN."

Revealing—surprising to many—it is a story of increasing diplomatic coolness and military preparation pointing to the role Russia is destined to play in the Pacific war.

Quoting the views of Russian generals and Russian people—it tells you how Moscow feels about Tokyo now—and what the Soviet is likely to do about it.

DINING CAR WAITER KILLS PASSENGER IN ROW ON TRAIN

Says Arkansas Man Struck Him—Rail Employe Held but No Charges Are Filed.

SHARON SPRINGS, Kan., Feb. 28 (AP).—William B. Bruce, 17 years old, Negro waiter in the Union Pacific dining car service on the Denver-Ellis (Kan.) run, is in the county jail here following the fatal stabbing of Home J. Clark, Monticello, Ark., Monday night on Train No. 38 just east of Sharon Springs.

Bruce said he was selling sandwiches and coffee through the train when he was confronted by Clark in the aisle of a coach, asking for a sandwich and coffee. Bruce asked him to wait a minute and Clark then demanded he "get that junk out of the aisle" as he had been blocking traffic long enough, according to the waiter.

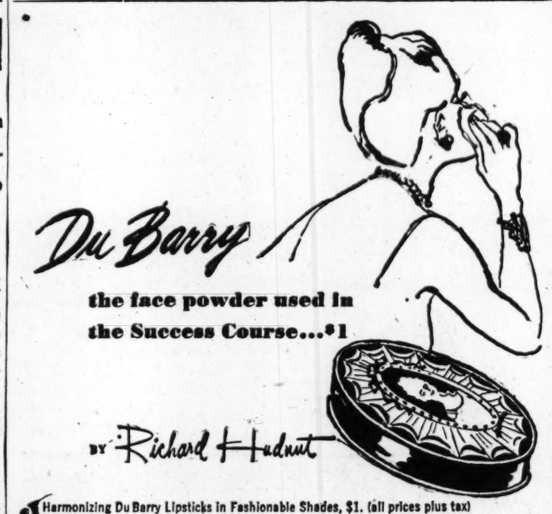

Bruce told officers that Clark hit him and they clinched, with Clark throwing the Negro into the hallway of the coach. Bruce said Clark jumped on his back and beat him about the head.

Bruce said a Negro car porter intervened. As Bruce got up, he took a knife from his pocket. Clark came at him a second time and Bruce swung on him with the knife, missing Clark and injuring the porter. Bruce said his next blow struck Clark just under the heart.

Making his way back to the dining car, Bruce threw the knife out a window. It was found later on the station platform at Wallace, nine miles east of Sharon Springs. Clark was taken to a hospital at Colby where he died. Bruce gave his home address as Denver. No charges have been filed.

Speed up, St. Louis! Tomorrow we start the most Vital War Fund Campaign in the history of the Red Cross 12,000 workers pledged to speed up .... 12,000 voluntarily signed the card you see above to do in about two weeks what usually takes four. 12,000 workers, ready to contact you and you and you. To give you the privilege of keeping your Red Cross at his side. In the seething heat of battle. In its tossed aftermath. On the home front. Behind the lines. Serving coffee. Collecting life-giving plasma. Sending boxes to prisoners. Caring for wounded men, homesick men, lonely men, your men. Not a small job is it? Certainly not a thankless job. But it's a job that can't be done without your help. There's no other fund to back it. The money must come from you. So when that volunteer worker from the Army of 12,000 behind the Army of Mercy behind the Army of Servicemen solicits you .... be ready! Let's show those fighting men of ours we know how to speed up our giving, too!

GIVE NOW—SPEED UP

KEEP YOUR RED CROSS AT HIS SIDE

CURFEW REGULATION FOR CAFES CLARIFIED

Restaurants Which Serve No Beer or Liquor Not Covered by Order.

Clarification of the midnight curfew regulation of War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes as it pertains to restaurants was announced today by Thomas L. Gaukel, area director of the War Manpower Commission in St. Louis.

"Restaurants, which serve only food," Gaukel said, "are not covered by the order, but restaurants that sell beer or liquor are covered. Those in the latter classification," he explained, "may continue to remain open until their customary closing hour provided the sale of liquor and beer, the playing of juke boxes and all other forms of entertainment are discontinued at midnight.

Many small eating places, which serve war workers on night shifts," he said, "are permitted to remain open for this purpose."

5 Restaurants Reported to WMC as Curfew Violators.

Five restaurant operators, whose establishments remained open after the midnight curfew in violation of War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes' order to save fuel, were reported to the War Manpower Commission office here today by police.

Chief of Detectives Herman F. Siebels told a Post-Dispatch reporter police have been instructed also to be on the alert for the return of speakeasy-type establishments that might remain open after midnight. Although few violations in the form of speakeasies are expected, Siebels said, "there are always a few."

Among those cited by police today for violating the curfew was William Hoppe Jr., operator of a barbecue establishment at 6034 Chippewa street, who also was reported violating the curfew Monday night.

Thomas L. Gaukel, area WMC director in St. Louis, said persons who persistently violate the curfew order will be deprived of all their employes, with the exception of maintenance workers.

Others reported as violators were Oscar Schaefer, owner of the Rail Fence at 6337 South Grand boulevard; Albert Overstreet, operator of the Sudden Service Restaurant, 3835 South Kingshighway; Louis Constantine, owner of the Shenandoah Restaurant, 2247 South Grand boulevard, and Edward Dietrich, manager of the Taystee Bar-B-Q, 708 Pine street.

B. M. Franks, executive secretary of the St. Louis Restaurant Association, said there apparently is considerable confusion in the minds of restaurateurs about the order.

Miles Beach, executive secretary of the St. Louis Tavern Operators' Association, announced that he had urged all members to obey the curfew ruling by closing at midnight.

ROOSEVELT ATTENDS GEN. WATSON'S BURIAL

Brief Service Held at Arlington Cemetery in Rain and Sleet Storm.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Gen. Edwin M. Watson, White House secretary and military aide, was buried on a rainswept knoll in Arlington National Cemetery today while President Roosevelt looked on.

The President sat in a closed car about 50 feet from the grave. Lt. Duane Brady, a Navy chaplain, delivered a brief committal service during a cold rain and sleet storm. A memorial mass will be said tomorrow morning at St. Matthew's Cathedral.

An honor guard of eight enlisted men lowered the rose-covered casket into the grave as an Army rifle squad fired three volleys and a bugler blew taps.

Members of the Supreme Court and cabinet joined a throng of Army, Navy and civilian Government officials at the grave side.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in black, stood near the tent-enclosed grave under an umbrella. With her was her daughter, Mrs. Anna Boettiger and the latter's husband, Lt. Col. John Boettiger.

Gen. Watson's widow, known in the music world as Frances Nash, a pianist, sat in a separate car in the roadside.

Among those attending the brief service were Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff; Attorney General Francis Biddle, Under Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew, Justice Felix Frankfurter of the Supreme Court, Postmaster General Frank Walker, an umbrtlla. With her was her director; Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, the President's special counsel, and Chairman May of the House Military Committee.

Gen. Watson, who was 61 years old, died Feb. 20 at sea on the cruiser that was returning the President to the United States.

uneventful. The sea was moderate, the weather exceptionally good.

Roosevelt will meet the Washington press corps at the White House Friday morning for the first time since Jan. 19.

White House Secretary Jonathan Daniels said that Press Secretary Stephen Early, who accompanied the President to Russia, went on to Paris from Yalta. Early's mission, as announced by the War Department some time ago, is to study press arrangements at supreme allied headquarters.

Harry L. Hopkins, special assistant to the President, returned ahead of the official party, arriving last weekend.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP BY WARSHIP, PLANE

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL CRUISER IN THE ATLANTIC, Feb. 27 (Delayed) (AP).—President Roosevelt divided his traveling to the Crimea conference between warship and plane and returned to American waters without a single close call.

A cruiser took him to Malta. A plane picked him up there, flew him to Russia and then down to Egypt, where he again boarded the cruiser.

With the crew at battle stations, the ship raced through the Straits of Gibraltar at a 30-knot clip Feb. 19, taking the chief executive through waters where enemy submarines have been lying in wait for Allied vessels.

Half a dozen destroyers and another cruiser screened the presidential ship, and a blimp and Lightning fighter planes criss-crossed overhead.

The travel by sea was not without incidents. Once on the way over, escorting destroyers peeled out of formation. A periscope had been reported, but apparently it was a false alarm.

A Portuguese merchantman ran jauntily through the American formation, ignoring efforts to shunt her aside.

A surface contact was reported on the westward crossing, but an American destroyer escort was responsible.

Several days of rough going were encountered on the trip to Europe, one destroyer reporting a 60-degree roll.

Air protection was available the entire distance.

Roosevelt occupied the captain's quarters on the cruiser and his daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger, was assigned the flag quarters.

Women on naval vessels at sea are a rarity even in peacetime. When a destroyer slid up alongside the cruiser, its commander caught sight of Mrs. Boettiger standing on deck in a fur jacket, took another good look and exclaimed:

"Forty years in the Navy, and now I've seen everything!"

Boy, 8, Dies of Burns.

Wright William Pullen, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Pullen, 2822 South Broadway, died today at City Hospital of burns suffered last Sept. 17. The boy's clothing ignited as he was playing with matches on a vacant lot near his home.

DEATH OF MAN WITH THROAT CUT IS DECLARED ACCIDENT

A verdict of accident was returned at East St. Louis yesterday following an inquest into the death of Alfred W. Sharlevil, 331 North Sixty-seventh street, East St. Louis, who died Friday at St. Mary's Hospital shortly after he was found with his throat cut beside his wrecked truck in the 1900 block of St. Clair avenue.

Coroner C. C. Kane said an autopsy revealed that Sharlevil died of a fractured skull as a result of a traffic accident and said the throat wound was not fatal. A passenger in the truck at the time of the accident, Earl Hullinex, is being held as a fugitive from the Monroe (Wash.) State Reformatory where he was serving a 20-year sentence for forgery. East St. Louis police arrested him when they learned he had thrown a razor in the flush bowl in the washroom of a tavern.

ANYONE WHO KNOWS CAN TELL THE REAL THING!

...THAT'S WHY CLEAR HEADS CHOOSE Calvert

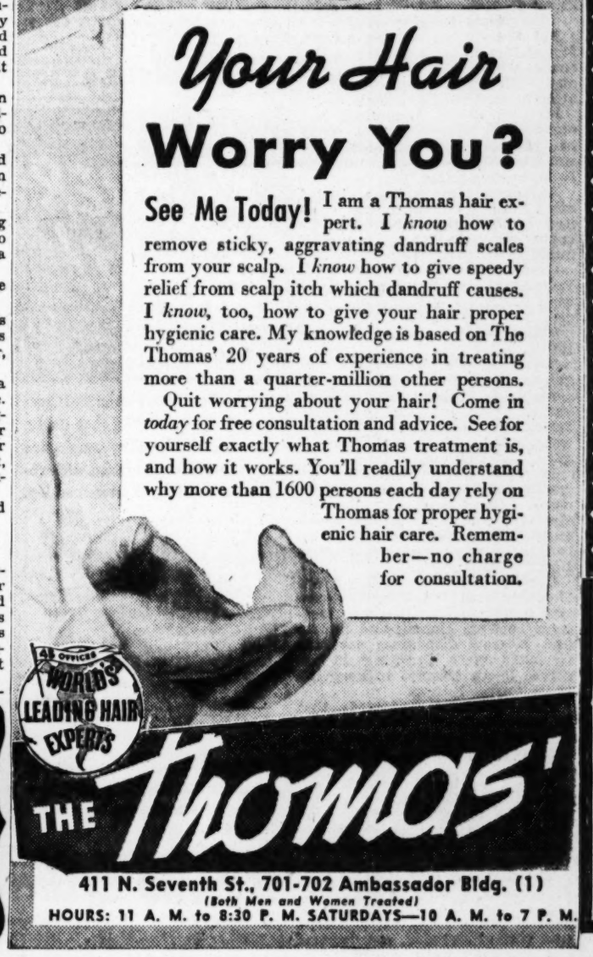

For those who know fine whiskey, Calvert is "the real thing." It has a pre-war quality and excellence that simply can't be imitated.

Perhaps that accounts for the fact that, year in and year out, people who sell and serve Calvert tell us: "It's the whiskey most often asked for by name."

We think that once you taste this gloriously smooth and mellow blend, you'll keep on asking for Calvert, too. It's America's finest whiskey from the House of Blends!

Yalta Conference Held in Luxury Created in Midst of War's Ruin

Trappings Shipped in for Occasion by Russians, Including Staffs of Famous Moscow Hotels.

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL CRUISER IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, Feb. 18 (AP) (Delayed).—The Crimea conference was a glittering bit of history in a setting which President Roosevelt described as Newport, Hollywood and the South rolled into one. It blended grotesquely with the grim despoliation of war.

The trappings, a measure of artificial luxury, were brought in for the occasion by the Soviet Government, playing host for the first time to a meeting of the President, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. They had to be imported from Moscow because the Nazis had left almost nothing.

Russia provided the best in food and drink, staffs from the famous Metropole and Grand Hotels—even barbers and manicures. For those who wanted them, and few did, there were vodka and caviar—for breakfast.

Background of Wreckage.

Yet always in the background were lasting scenes of wartime desolation.

All about was evidence of the ebb and flow of battle—buildings in rubble, smoke-blackened walls standing starkly erect, a pillaged countryside, skeletons still lying beside the roads.

That was the picture of contrasts drawn for reporters of the three major news services who joined the presidential party today for the trip home. Some of the other details they obtained in talks with the President and other members of the delegation.

Roosevelt lived in an impressive, two-story stone building, once the summer palace of the Czars, later turned into a sanitorium for tuberculars. Of all the furnishings, the Germans had left only two pictures, which hung in the President's bedroom.

Surrounding the palace are beautiful gardens. Trees from all over the world, including California redwoods, flourish there.

Three or four miles away were the snow-clad Yalta Mountains. But flowers were in bloom down near the sea.

Nazis Used Police.

The German high command had used the palace and preserved it. But in nearby Yalta, once a fashionable resort, the Nazis had applied torch and bomb to villa after villa. And in Sevastopol, 50 miles away, the scenes of destruction appalled the President. Scarcely half a dozen buildings were intact.

All the Big Three meetings were held in a tremendous, white marble room where royalty and the elite of Russian aristocracy once dined and danced. It was perhaps 50 by 150 feet, with a ceiling 30 or 40 feet high.

Roosevelt frequently started work with his own staff by 9:30 a. m. Meetings with Stalin and Churchill usually got under way in the forenoon and continued through lunch. Sometimes they lasted through tea and as late as 9 p. m.

Hard Working Conference.

It was described as a "hard working conference." The only social events were three dinners. Each of the principals gave one for the top personnels, and the customary toasts were exchanged.

Stalin served vodka, five wines, caviar, bread and butter, consomme, sturgeon, beef and macaroni, sweet cake, tea, coffee and fruit.

Russian secret police were in charge of security and they had "strict orders." For a time they even "tailed" the American Secret Service, two to a man, but soon they were exchanging cigarettes and pleasantries. Many of the sentries along the roads were girls of 14 or 15, or women of 50 or 60, with rifles and bayonets. The Americans were told the Germans had taken away all the women 16 to 25.

DODGE STRIKERS VOTE TO STAY OFF JOB

UAW Heads Withdraw Support—Further Production Delays Expected.

DETROIT, Feb. 28 (AP).—Further interruptions in Chrysler Corporation's war production schedule were expected today following another decision by striking Dodge main plant workers to continue indefinitely their defiance of back-to-work orders.

Officers of the International United Automobile Workers (CIO) said they were "withdrawing all support from the strikers" after a motion for immediate work resumption was rejected last night at a mass meeting of Dodge Local No. 3. About one-third of the local's membership of 13,500 attended the meeting.

George F. Addes, secretary-treasurer and acting president of the UAW-CIO, said that from now on "the strikers are on their own."

The total number of idle Chrysler employes reached 17,000 yesterday when 3000 at the Dodge truck plant and 500 in other Detroit area factories were sent home because of a scarcity of parts produced at the main plant. Company spokesmen said banks of stocks were running dangerously low.

The War Labor Board has offered to effect orderly settlement of the strikers' grievances as soon as production is resumed. Involved in the dispute is the discharge of eight men accused of loafing on production quotas in a department making parts for B-29 bombers.

GERMANS GIVE UP NEUSTETTIN; REDS NEARING BALTIC

much of the countryside into bogs and marshes.

The German high command announced that Marshal Gregory Zhukov's First White Russian Army had expanded its Oder River bridgehead south of Kuestrin, 39 miles east of Berlin.

Rokossovsky's armored vanguard was fighting fiercely to advance in the low hills dotted with small lakes in Northeastern Pomerania along four secondary lines leading to the major coastal railway. His guns were almost within range of Koeslin, Moscow said.

Nazis Reinforced.

But the slushy, wooded terrain forced him to stick closely to the roads where the German army and Volkssturm received desperately needed reinforcements.

Marshal Stalin announced last night that Rokossovsky's army had driven 44 miles northwestward into Pomerania in four days from captured Chojnice.

A Moscow communique issued after Stalin's announcement credited Rokossovsky's troops with capturing more than 100 communities in their four-day sweep.

Other strong points that fell to Rokossovsky's advancing columns were Baldenburg, Schlochau, Stegers and Hammerstein, all on the northwestward routes to the Baltic.

Soviet reports stressed the sanguinary nature of the fighting in a region favorable to the defense, stating that at the town of Schlochau alone 2000 Germans were killed and 22 tanks and 46 guns knocked out.

In addition to threatening entrapment of another force of Germans, this familiar Russian strategy, used successfully previously in East Prussia and Latvia, brought a new menace to Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port.

German commentator Ernst von Hammer said the Russians carried orders to cut all communications between Danzig and Stettin and Moscow dispatches said the Germans were throwing in reserves in an attempt to keep the route open.

The Germans reported that Rokossovsky's left flank was moving forward simultaneously with Zhukov's right flank toward the Baltic.

Except for the Pomeranian advances, Russian announcements told only of capture of 12 additional blocks in besieged Breslau and seizure of seven villages in Czechoslovakia.

The Germans said Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army had crossed the Neisse River at several points southeast of Berlin and east of Dresden, but declared the Russians were repulsed.

Commons Rejects Protest on Big 3 Polish Policy; Eden Says Country Will Emerge as Strong as in 1939

House Defeats, 396 to 25, Motion to Amend Churchill's Call for Vote of Confidence on Program—Secretary Denies Britain Ever Guaranteed Nation's Frontiers.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).

THE House of Commons by an overwhelming vote of 396 to 25 late today defeated a motion of protest against the Big Three's plan for the future of Poland.

The vote came after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared the plan would make postwar Poland "as strong or stronger" than in 1939 and after he denied vigorously that Britain had ever guaranteed Poland's prewar frontiers.

The motion of protest was in the form of an amendment offered by a small but rebellious group of Conservatives, to a general motion of confidence sought by Prime Minister Churchill on the Crimea decisions. This amendment criticised the agreement which would revise Poland's eastern borders in favor of Russia and give Poland German territory in compensation.

The motion of confidence is to be voted on tomorrow night at the end of three days of debate on foreign policy and Churchill himself prepared to speak again tomorrow.

Eden declared that "when the settlement is finally reached, Poland will be as strong or stronger than the Poland which existed in 1939." He asserted that "we have at no time guaranteed Poland's pre-war frontiers."

Responsibility of All.

Eden emphasized that Britain's dealings with the Polish Government in London were the responsibility of Churchill's entire coalition cabinet.

"We have worked as a united war cabinet and, whether right or wrong, its decisions are those of the united war cabinet," he said.

The Foreign Secretary acknowledged that the once-warm relations between the British Government and Polish group in London had cooled since the resignation of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk as Polish Premier and the withdrawal of the Peasant Party representatives.

Eden asserted that Britain "would not recognize the new government in Poland which was not truly representative"—referring to the present Soviet-sponsored provisional government in Warsaw.

Outlining Poland's problems, Eden said the Poles had sought to increase their minority representation in eastern Galicia which "led to friction and of course the issue which underlies the whole of this problem is a religious issue."

Religion at Root.

"In truth," he added, "the religious issue in that area is far older than the nationalist issue and it is that which lies at the root of much of the feeling."

Britain is corresponding with Russia about an arrangement "so that people from this country can go to Poland and see what is going on," he said.

The rebellious Conservatives in Churchill's own party charged the treatment of Poland constituted that country's fifth partition in less than 200 years.

Prospect of Losses.

Maj. Maurice Petherick, Conservative, contended the Crimea agreement would mean Poland would lose nearly half its territory, a third of its population, 85 per cent of its oil and natural gas, half its chemical industry, and 40 per cent of its water power.

He described Churchill as a "great man of war—a well-found, stout battle cruiser," but added that "nobody is a superman."

"Everybody makes mistakes, and if any back-bencher feels justified in criticising even the Prime Minister, he should not hesitate to do so," Petherick said.

Registering again Britain's pique at being passed by as a site of one of the Big Three conferences, he said: "There is a feeling that there is too much going-about with the savor of the cup in hand to other countries. There's no reason why Mahomet should go to the whole range of mountains."

Petherick called the plan to shift Poland's eastern frontier to the Curzon Line a violation of the Atlantic Charter and declared peace in Europe would be impossible for 100 years unless boundary treaties were recognized and respected.

Move Is Denounced.

Laborite Dr. Leslie Haden Guest denounced the opposition move as "a niggardly and miserable amendment designed to bring forward anti-Soviet prejudice of the worst possible kind."

He said it "dwells in the muddle and obscurity in anti-Soviet prejudice and foolishness and of almost abysmal ignorance of international affairs."

As the debate continued today, Sir Lambert Ward, Conservative, proposed that a "second Palestine" be set up in Libya to provide refuge for hundreds of thousands of Europe's homeless Jews.

An open bid for Russian participation in the war against Japan was voiced by Maj. G. E. P. Thorneycroft, conservative, who told the House "we are faced with a long and arduous and probably costly campaign against the Japanese," and solemnly added:

"We cannot compel the Russians to share the burden of that campaign, but if co-operation means anything, the greatest co-operation we could ask for would be that of Russia in that war."

Territory for Poland.

Churchill disclosed yesterday that the Big Three had agreed to give Danzig and Upper Silesia to Poland along with other territory at German expense in return for extension of Russia's western border to the Curzon line.

From quarters close to the exiled Polish government of Premier Tomasz Arciszewski came the declaration that Churchill "added nothing to what has been said at Yalta."

"The whole thing is a step to sovietize Poland," one said.

Officially the Polish government had nothing to say, but a spokesman asked: 'What can we say? What can we do? We are simply being told."

"Defensive," Nazis Say.

The Germans called Churchill's speech "purely defensive" and said it revealed "his guilty conscience regarding solution of the Polish question."

The news agency DNB said in a broadcast dispatch, "Churchill's guilty conscience regarding the Polish solution is seen clearly in his promise that Poles like Gen. Anders, who don't acknowledge the results of the Yalta conference, will not be forced to return to Poland in order to be handed over to Soviet hangmen, but that attempts will be made to give them British citizenship."

Churchill's assurances that the Big Three planned no world dictatorship indicated, Berlin said, that Britain couldn't play such a role anyway because "it dawns on Churchill's own circles that England's position as a great power is more than shaken."

Colonel's Home Built of Scrap Intrigues Pyle

Has Shower, Closet, Icebox, and Porch, and Is Close to the Sea.

By ERNIE PYLE

IN THE MARIANAS ISLANDS, (Delayed).

THE B-29 squadron that my nephew is with is commanded by Lt. Col. John H. Griffith, of Plymouth, Pa.

He walked into our Quonset hut the first night I was here and grinned sort of knowing-like as we were introduced. I felt our paths had crossed somewhere in the dim past, but I couldn't recall it.

Finally he said "remember the Rangitiki?"

"Oh for God's sake, of course," I said. The Rangitiki was the ship that took us from England to Africa in the fall of 1942. Col. Griffith was in a nearby cabin on that trip and we became well acquainted. But the war is big and time flies, and you do forget.

Col. Griffith flew combat missions both out of England and Africa. And now on this side of the world he has made 11 missions to Japan. But from now on, being an executive, he is restricted to four missions a month.

On one mission Col. Griffith's bombardier had his leg blown almost off. As Col. Griffith was dragging him back into the pilot's compartment, he thoughtlessly took off his oxygen mask. In a moment he passed out and fell over. But he freakishly fell with his face right in the mask, and it revived him.

Although still young, Col. Griffith has been in the Army eight years, and will stay in after the war. His wife and baby and dog are waiting for him at LaGrange Park, Ill.

Has His Own House.

UNTIL recently Col. Griffith lived with the pilots in the same Quonset hut I'm in. But a few days ago they finished his new house. You should see it.

It's a skeleton framework of two-by-fours about 30 feet square roofed with canvas and walled only with screen wire, tropical fashion. The roof overhangs about six feet all around to keep out the almost horizontal rain.

Inside, they've given it the semblance of a many-roomed house by putting up little hip-high partitions of brown burlap. This makes it seem that you have a living room, bedroom, bath, kitchen and sun porch, although it's actually just one big room.

The place is wonderfully comfortable. It has four desks, two cots and 10 chairs, and yet there's lots of room left. It has a big clothes closet, and a washbowl and shower, the water coming from two 50-gallon barrels up the hillside.

It has an icebox, a radio and a field telephone. Incidentally, Col. Griffith still has the same alarm clock he took with him when he went to England nearly three years ago.

If you had this house in America, it would cost you $200 a month rent, yet the whole thing was built of packing boxes and metal bomb crates and Army leftovers.

'No Shoes' Rule.

THE wooden floor is painted battleship gray. Col. Griffith likes to keep his floor clean. Consequently he has a big sign on his screen door saying "please remove shoes before entering."

He isn't joking either. He even

U. S. May Propose Compromise On Hemisphere Border Guarantee

Holds Up Vote at Mexico City Until It Can Present Plan That Would Limit Pledges of Force to Wartime.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28 (AP).

THE United States delegation has reached a tentative compromise to be offered on the Declaration of Chapultepec. The compromise would accept a commitment to put down aggression by force in this hemisphere during the war emergency.

The stand was taken this morning after a series of hasty meetings, it was learned on best authority.

The delegation has split on whether the United States should accept the Latin American proposal to bind the American nations to guarantees of territorial integrity and political independence backed by armed might.

The Chapultepec plan combines proposals put forward by Uruguay, Colombia and Brazil. It goes beyond the Dumbarton Oaks plan in one important point: The signatory nations would be obliged to use force when aggression or a "sure threat" of aggression developed on this continent.

Dumbarton Oaks also omits the boundary guarantee included in the declaration.

A final decision is expected when Senator Tom Connally (Dem.), Texas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, arrives this afternoon.

The current position is, in effect, a victory for those members of the United States delegation who have been urging acceptance of all-out commitments now. It would be based on the President's war-time emergency powers.

Basis of Compromise.

The compromise stemmed from the belief that there is no constitutional authority for a permanent pledge to use United States armed forces without the discretion of Congress, but that during the war, the President could order them into action.

It is felt that this position, if definitely adopted by the United States here, would be satisfactory to the Latin-American delegations.

It would fulfill their immediate demands and leave establishment of a long-range treaty until after the United Nations conference in San Francisco, perhaps at the scheduled inter-American meeting in Bogota after the war.

Advisers are now drafting a proposal containing this idea for approval by Secretary of State Stettinius and Connally. It then

FRENCH ACCEPT INVITATION FROM YALTA TO CO-SPONSOR SAN FRANCISCO MEETING

PARIS, Feb. 28 (AP).

THE French Cabinet voted today to accept the Yalta invitation to be a cosponsor of the San Francisco security conference alongside the United States, Russia, China and Britain.

The action followed a report from Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who returned yesterday from conversations in London with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Bidault conferred with Gen. Charles De Gaulle last night.

He brought added details on the Yalta conference decisions and these, it was learned reliably, were highly pleasing to the French Government, particularly as to the role accorded France in Germany, in Europe, and in the world organization.

Stassen Says U. S. Has Ended Isolationism

Delegate to Coming Parley Gets Dewey's Views on Peace Setup.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP).

AFTER saying the nation had ditched isolationism, Comdr. Harold E. Stassen carried away from Albany today Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's undisclosed views on how to enforce world peace.

The former Republican Governor of Minnesota, chosen by President Roosevelt as one of the three G. O. P. members of the United States delegation to the San Francisco conference on organization of international security, opening April 25, obtained Dewey's opinions last night on establishment of a permanent peace structure.

For the time being, they remained the secret of the naval officer and the 1944 Republican presidential nominee.

Stassen said at a press conference, attended by Dewey, that the country "has definitely left isolationism behind," and added, "that applies to both major parties."

Asked whether there would be a

Welles Rates 4 Yalta Decisions As So Outstanding as Largely to Outweigh All Valid Objections

He Lists Main Achievements in Order as Call for Charter Meeting at San Francisco, Declarations on Reich and Poland, Aid to Liberated Peoples.

By SUMNER WELLES

Former Under Secretary of State.

(Copyright, 1945.)

DURING the days which have passed since the Declaration of Yalta was made public, the terms of the agreements reached in the Crimea have been subjected to searching scrutiny throughout the world. In the United States, as was to be expected, the chronic "pointers with pride" and the chronic "viewers with alarm" have had their customary say.

But to independent public opinion here the proclamation of the decisions reached at Yalta has been heartening and stimulating to an extent which had not generally been anticipated. To any objective observer the Declaration of Yalta, whatever the future may bring forth, will always stand out as a gigantic step forward toward the ultimate establishment of a peaceful and orderly world.

It is easy enough to pick flaws and to deplore omissions. It cannot be denied that, notwithstanding several gestures made to France, the refusal of the Big Three to include a representative of the French provisional government when they formulated their decisions regarding the future disposition and control of Germany will arouse resentments within France which may have very far-reaching and serious repercussions.

It can also be assumed that the inference which the intermediate and smaller countries are warranted in drawing, that they will be accorded but little opportunity to obtain material changes in the plan for international organization as now fixed, will create a dangerous recalcitrance on the part of many of the peoples of the lesser powers.

But in the larger sense, the practical accomplishments obtained at Yalta far outweigh all valid objections which can be raised.

Outstanding Achievements.

It seems to me that the four outstanding achievements of the Yalta meeting are these:

First of all, the announcement by the major countries that all of the United Nations will meet at San Francisco on April 25 to reach a final agreement upon the charter of an international organization. The great powers have, in this chapter of the declaration, made plain their common belief that speed is of the essence and that it is their intention that an international organization shall be functioning before the conclusion of hostilities in Europe, so that it may play a deciding part in laying down the terms of the peace to come.

If this objective is realized, repetition of the unilateral action taken in the recent past by individual great powers in shaping the course of political developments within Europe can be avoided.

Secondly, sufficient emphasis has not yet been placed upon the immense importance of those portions of the joint declaration concerning Germany, where the three major powers say:

"It is our inflexible purpose to destroy German militarism and Nazism and to insure that Germany will never again be able to disturb the peace of the world. We are determined to disarm and disband all German armed forces, break up for all time the German general staff that has repeatedly contrived the resurgence of German militarism: . . . eliminate or control all German industry that could be used for military production; bring all war criminals to just and swift punishment."

No clearer pronouncement of a wise and potent long-range common policy toward Germany could have been made by the three powers than that summarized in these final words:

"It is not our purpose to destroy the people of Germany, but only when Nazism and militarism have been extirpated will there be hope for a decent life for Germans, and a place for them in the comity of nations."

These stipulations, together with the relation of the steps which will be taken to provide for the military occupation of Germany, and for the establishment of a joint control over the several zones of occupation, embrace every essential provision required to insure

3 OF GEN. CLARK'S STAFF KILLED IN CRASH IN ITALY FATAL TO 10

ROME, Feb. 28 (AP).—Ten persons, including three officers of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's staff, were killed Feb. 19 while en route home on leave when their transport plane crashed on taking off from an Italian field, it was disclosed today.

The staff officers killed were Lt. Col. John T. Walker, former aviation editor of the Springfield (Ill.) State Journal, who frequently piloted Clark on inspection trips; Lt. Col. John Howard Faust, of Wyomissing, Pa., and Maj. Donald M. Kerr, of Portland, Ore.

Also killed were American Maj. William N. Mallory, an intelligence officer; three British officers, one a woman, the pilot, co-pilot, and a crew member, all Britons.

U. S. CAPTAIN GETS 10 YEARS FOR NEGLECT IN TRAIN LOOTING

PARIS, Feb. 28 (AP).—A general court-martial sentenced Capt. William P. Olson of San Francisco to 10 years at hard labor yesterday after convicting him of neglect of duty and wrongful receipt of Government property stolen from Army supply trains.

Olson, a 47-year-old former railway man, was acquitted of a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States.

He was the third officer of the 716th Railway Operating Battalion to be convicted in the current "black market" trials.

CARL SEVERING REPORTED EXECUTED IN NAZI PURGE

PARIS, Feb. 28 (AP).—Reports from inside Germany say Carl Severing, former Reichs Minister of the Interior, has been executed in another Nazi purge.

The gray-haired Severing, now about 70 years of age, was consistently though mildly anti-Nazi. Coming up from trade union ranks, he represented the Social Democratic party in the Reichstag and Government.

Even when the Nazis in early days started terroristic methods, he held to a policy of appeasement. When Franz von Papen became Chancellor in 1932, Severing failed to mobilize police against the coup d'etat whereby Von Papen seized the police power unconstitutionally.

CIVILIAN SUPPLY LEND-LEASE CREDITS EXTENDED TO FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The United States today announced extension of lend-lease credits to France for civilian supplies totaling $2,575,000,000.

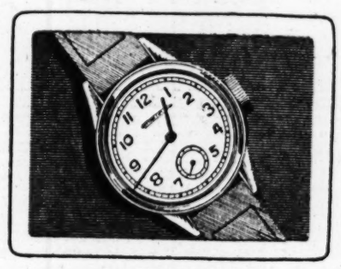

Supplies are to continue moving under a broad new lend-lease agreement signed today with the De Gaulle Government, even after the end of the war, unless President Roosevelt decides to cancel the contracts as being not "in the national interest."

The French agreed to pay for the materials thus received on a 30-year basis, the credits to bear interest at 2⅜ per cent annually.

RELIGION WHICH ALSO IS DEMONSTRABLE SCIENCE

THE disclosure through Christian Science that God, the source of all being, can be accurately known, and that His nature and presence are everywhere as demonstrable as a fact in mathematics, is bringing profound satisfaction and great practical help to increasing multitudes throughout the world.

Summing up the value of the disclosure, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, has written, "It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony."*

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Technician Speaks

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

May I humbly add my voice to your vigorous editorials on Mr. Truman's error in referring the Murray MVA bill to the Senate Commerce Committee? I feel that I'm entitled to do this, not as a journalist or a parliamentarian but as a technician in the subject in question —namely, regional planning. For my credentials in the latter capacity, I refer you to the fourteenth edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica and the article therein on "Regional Planning," written by myself and Lewis Mumford.

An MVA, like the TVA, is an instrument of regional planning; in other words, it is a vehicle of the country's habitability. Its object is to make of the Missouri River basin a better habitation in which to work and live. Two aspects are involved—one physical, the other economic.

Physical habitability is achieved principally via the control of stream flow and allied agents (prevention of soil erosion and flood waves, and use of water for irrigation). Protective forest cover on the headwaters is another vital measure. These are matters essentially of "agriculture and forestry."

Economic habitability is achieved, or achievable, in a multitude of ways. It is the subject of a vast array of Federal legislation, especially since 1887 (birth of the Interstate Commerce Commission), and 1890 (the Sherman Anti-Trust Law). Freight rates and electric rates are vital, as you know, in making (or unmaking) regions. These are matters of "interstate commerce."

The Murray bill involves electric rates; and an MVA, once established, would undoubtedly be affected by interstate freight rates. But such matters are incidental rather than primary in the Murray bill: they are "by-products" so to speak. The primary product and object is the physical habitability involved in maintaining the soil and substance of a territory as a national growing ground. This is well brought out in the comprehensive plan in Section 11 of the bill.

Speaking then as a technician in the particular subject-matter involved—not as an advocate of a piece of legislation—I hold that the Murray bill is germane essentially to the Agriculture and Forestry Committee, and only incidentally to the Commerce Committee; and with all due respect for the judgment of the Vice President, I claim that he made a technical error in referring this bill to the said Commerce Committee.

Incidentally, let me say that I have written my two Senators on this subject, making the points just stated.

Keep up the crusade against radio plug-uglies.

It is really disgusting to be forced to listen to a lecture on B.O. or pills or tooth paste, hair tonic, etc., when you are intensely interested in the progress of the war or some other important newscast. Is there no way to eliminate this practice? DR. W. H. BELL.

A Reply to Walker Hill

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Walker Hill Jr. accuses you of being a New Dealer and associates you with Hague, Kelly and the late Boss Pendergast, and tells us he cannot understand your attack on Sheriff Dougherty.

I assume that you would much prefer to be associated with the New Deal, which smelled to high heaven. And I feel sure you would not want to be linked with the notorious Ohio gang and its counterpart, the band of political rapscallions whose rendezvous was the ill-famed Little Green House on K street.

These political buccaneers had as one of their ringleaders another Daugherty —the late Harry Daugherty, former United States Attorney General. I recall that you turned your editorial artillery on Old Deal Daugherty with telling effect. If Mr. Hill will take time out and examine the back files of your paper and read your editorials of those days, he will readily understand why you have attacked Sheriff Dougherty.

Surely Mr. Hill must have noticed that you are now aiming your editorial shafts against another Republican Daugherty—the Alderman from the Twenty-sixth Ward, who has filed for the nomination for president of the Board of Aldermen. You have accused him of being opposed to the St. Louis anti-smoke ordinance and of leading the fight against the bill to clean up filthy restaurants.

I hold no brief for Sheriff Dougherty, but I will suggest that Mr. Hill observe the inhibition: "People who live in class houses ought not throw stones."

Lady of No Leisure

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I would like to take issue with the soldier who mentioned he wasn't a woman-hater, whose letter appeared Feb. 16. He declared American women were lazily sitting back and resting.

I am a woman of 38 with four children. Does this soldier expect me to leave four children, all under the age of 8, distributed around the neighborhood, and go out and obtain employment? There are several million other women who are in similar circumstances. Just what does he suggest we do?

Bright Day for Missouri

Feb. 27, 1945, will go down in the annals as a memorable date in Missouri's history. For on that day, yesterday, the people of this State cast off their antiquated, inadequate Constitution of 1875 vintage and by an overwhelming majority adopted the new, vastly improved charter designed to fit modern conditions.

Here was a splendid example of democracy in action. The people had voted in 1942 for the constitutional revision, which their delegates worked out in more than a year of deliberations. The people yesterday wrote their indorsement across the new charter, and so demonstrated the power of democracy to revitalize itself by adoption of new instruments and new procedures for handling the business of self-government.

The outcome wins fresh renown for Missouri across the nation, since this campaign had been watched with great interest by numerous other states. Illinois was watching, for a movement is under way there to cast off the straitjacket of its obsolete Constitution. New Jersey was watching, for its campaign of last fall for a new Constitution failed because of a last-minute pressure drive of falsehoods. In Arkansas, Tennessee, Texas and elsewhere, movements for constitutional reform will be stimulated by the Missouri results. The whole country has an inspiring example in yesterday's decision.

By their decisive vote, the majority of Missourians repudiated the obstructionists who had tried to defeat the progressive new charter by an unparalleled campaign of misrepresentation. This was a difficult campaign for Constitution advocates to combat, for, as an old proverb says, "A lie goes half-way around the world while the truth is getting its breeches on." Yet the merits of the new Constitution were so clear, and the organizations supporting it worked so effectively, that truth did prevail.

This is not, of course, to question the good faith of the thousands who voted against the Constitution. Many of them were confused and made doubtful by the whirlwind of anti-Constitution propaganda. Not all the doubters could be reached by the explanations, so their negative votes were based on misconceptions. We are confident that, as the new Constitution takes effect, the great majority of these persons will realize that their fears were groundless.

The people have expressed their will, and now their mandate requires a wholesale revision of Missouri's laws to put the new Constitution into effect. This confronts the Legislature with a huge task and a great responsibility. Hundreds of statutes, perhaps several thousand, must be rewritten to make them conform to the new organic law approved by the voters.

Many of the changes are purely in the mechanics of government. But the new democratic instrument also gives the Legislature considerable leeway in shaping the people's government, on such issues as money-lending rates, so wisdom and good judgment will be required to implement the changes. Through a special subcommittee, the Legislature has already begun organizing the work of new legislation. It is to be hoped that its new duties will be carried forward in a spirit of co-operation with the people's expression of yesterday.

Congratulations to Missouri!

Vacancy in a Directory

The new edition of the Congressional Directory is a 923-page book closely packed with printed lines, but Page 390 is an exception. It has a large gap of white space, which is explained by the following notation: "Secretary of Commerce.—(Vacant.)"

The Government Printing Office isn't taking any chances, and isn't making any guesses on what the Senate will do about the appointment of Henry A. Wallace to fill the vacant office. We can hardly wait for the next edition of the directory to learn how that comes out.

Meeting at Suez

Homing via Suez, President Roosevelt discoursed in French with Dajazmach Tafari the Abyssinian, King of Kings, Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, Elect of God, Light of the World, scion of Menelik the scion of Solomon and Sheba's Queen—Haile Selassie, Power of the Holy Trinity, His Coptic Christian Majesty the Negus of Ethiopia. The President hoped, the Emperor concurring, that the two countries would come to know each other better.

There was a day, not so long ago, when the Negus had other engagement with the Western world. Mussolini's minions swarmed over his realm; to Geneva he went pleading for abatement. Haile Selassie would be the world's conscience. The voice was too small. Or the world was too deaf.

What the whisper of conscience could not do, the changed allegiances of nations gone to war could and did. By solemn announcement in Parliament, Haile Selassie became "the lawful Government of Ethiopia." By aid of British arms, it presently came to pass that he ruled again. Thence to meeting at Suez.

Strange are the ways of man with man. Judah's Lion once ranged the Ethiop heights in untroubled majesty. Then, for man's unkindness, he cried in pain. And at last, in a happier mutation, he purrs punctilio in polite Parisian.

Mr. Churchill Reports

There were two highly reassuring points in Prime Minister Churchill's report to the Commons yesterday on the Crimea Conference: the statement that the Allies are fully prepared for Germany's collapse whenever it may occur, and his vigorous support of the Polish settlement.

Both these issues had threatened to disturb the equilibrium of Allied concord even with the approach of victory in Europe. There had been fears that German surrender would find the powers unprepared to handle the vast problems they would be immediately compelled to face, and that the Russian policies on Germany differed in vital respects from those of the English-speaking Allies.

The Polish controversy will continue despite Churchill's statement, but his definite pronouncement that the border agreement does not result from bowing to force but "is the fairest division which can be made between the two countries" will contribute materially to clear thinking on the subject. There is also a fine contribution to unity in the Prime Minister's tribute to the "prodigious efforts and sacrifices of Russia," and his expression of conviction that the Soviet Union means "to live in honorable friendship and equality with the Western democracies."

Churchill did not come off so well, however, in his attempted explanations of events in Italy and Greece. Though he claimed "perfect assurance" that this country agreed with the British course in Italy, the fact remains that the Stettinius statement of last Dec. 5 opposing intervention in that country has not been publicly withdrawn or modified. And the Prime Minister's report of the "rapturous welcome" he received in Athens does not wipe out the grim record of British meddling in Greece.

These are issues which will be settled right as the people's desire for real democracy makes itself felt. Of greater importance in Churchill's speech is the assurance that the Crimea agreements are one more step toward real security.

Argentina Still a Holdout

Col. Peron, boss of Argentina, issues a statement full of praise for Pan-Americanism, avowals of friendship for the United States and of devotion to democracy. Argentina is doing everything possible to demonstrate her good will, he says, but one thing she won't do: declare war. That, in the Colonel's opinion, would be opportunism which "would alienate our friends" and "give our foes an opportunity to heap scorn upon us."

The Pan-American nations which have already joined the Allies have a simple test for identifying their real friends in the hemisphere, and that is their attitude on entering the war against the common enemy. Active participation in the war isn't required, just a declaration. Argentina has already broken diplomatic relations with Germany, and could re-enter the society of American nations in good standing by merely taking the next and logical step. Whatever her reasons for declining to do so, Argentina can't expect to be viewed with anything but continued suspicion while the policy laid down by Peron continues.

Intolerance Causes a Strike

Report after report has come back from the front lines telling how whites and Negroes fight side by side and are associated in military duties with no friction.

Many on the home front, both employers and workers, need to learn that their share in winning the war and their responsibility for making democracy function also call for inter-racial cooperation. Just now, St. Louis sees an example of failure to realize this necessity, in the strike of 900 workers at two sole-leather plants of the International Shoe Co. because five Negro women were hired by the company. The strikers, who belong to the CIO United Shoe Workers, defy their officers' orders in staging a walkout.

Here is racial prejudice disturbing the industrial peace, causing violation of the no-strike pledge and threatening to impede war production. The episode shows that a big task of education is still ahead. The union in this case has the responsibility for educating its rank and file to acceptance of Government policies and CIO policies, which are essentially democratic policies of fair play. There is also a responsibility on the schools, the churches, civic organizations and all other agencies, public and private, for teaching the lesson that there is no place for racial hatred in a democracy.

A CLOSE-UP OF THE MISSOURI VALLEY

By Rufus Terral
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Feb. 28.

We bumped down from Lincoln the 70 miles over gravel roads and dirt roads to Pawnee City this morning to see what happens when farmers get the vision to use land wisely. The skies were so clear you could see blue through blue. Along the roadsides and occasionally at right angles to the road in straight lines as far as the eye could see were the bushlike Osage orange trees, which will be green-leaved and hung with green mock oranges the size of real ones, but which now are bleak and spidery shapes against the horizon. This tree, imported from France, was used by the first settlers to mark property lines, and is seen everywhere in parts of Nebraska and Kansas.

The place of honor in the Soil Conservation Service office here is occupied by a large wiry, close-matted light brown maze of fibers which isn't very ornamental, but looks perfectly beautiful to nearly 500 farmers of Pawnee County. It is the root system of brome grass. When the District Conservationist, D. E. Hutchinson, looks at brome or talks about it, his face takes on a light.

If you want to know what brome will do, Hutchinson will show you. He will take a hose with a uniform flow of water and apply it to a piece of bare sod. The packed earth washes away in 10 minutes. We are seeing what happens to soil beaten by hard rains or scoured by water rushing down slopes.

Hutchinson picks up a sod held together by alfalfa roots. He applies the same flow of water against it. All the soil washes out of the roots in 21 minutes. "For a long time farmers used alfalfa to hold the soil," he says. "That was a mistake. It wasn't good enough for that purpose. We lost a lot of soil on account of it."

He takes a sod held together by brome roots, and applies the destructive force of the water. We don't have time to wait for this experiment to finish; we go out and have lunch, inspect a farm, and when we return to the office the water has still not been able to extract all the soil from the maze of brome roots. What it did to bare sod in 10 minutes and to alfalfa-held sod in 21 it manages to do to brome-held sod only after two hours and 25 minutes.

That's why Pawnee County is planting brome. Even before the First World War, the county was a critical area of erosion. High prices led farmers here to do what was done all over this valley—plow up and plant land that should have stayed in grass; land that began wasting away when it was broken.

Seven years ago the farmers really began doing something about it. Five hundred of the 1300 farmers in the county are taking part and 200 more are signing up. Twenty-five per cent of the cropland has been retired to grass and another 15 per cent needs to follow.

Pawnee County, Neb., is one of the two counties in the entire nation in which the farmers have done the most toward finding out how to use their soils and then using them that way. (The other—also in the Missouri Valley—is Teton County, Mont.) These counties are little demonstrations of a big need. What they are doing, the whole Missouri Valley needs to do.

Keys to the Kaiser Medical Plan

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Medical society plans for group medicine termed "miserable failures" by Dr. Sidney R. Garfield, medical director of the Kaiser plan; Kaiser-style medicine urged as a national need; pre-payment, group practice and adequate facilities are prerequisites, he says.

From Medical Economics

Hitching pre-payment to solo practice is like putting a Rolls Royce engine into an old-fashioned buggy; more than pre-payment is needed to ward off Federal encroachment, according to Dr. Sidney R. Garfield, medical director of the Henry Kaiser medical-care plan.

Dr. Garfield believes that voluntary health insurance should be accompanied by a voluntary realignment of physicians—a move, under medical society auspices, to make Kaiser-style medicine available nationally.

The Plan Is Very Simple

Every pre-paid medical plan to date has failed, in Dr. Garfield's opinion. "But," he says, "the Kaiser plan is very simple, and works. We have tested it under all sorts of conditions and in all sorts of places. The only thing wrong with what we are doing is that I shouldn't be doing it, nor should Mr. Kaiser be doing it. But medicine should. The possibilities of a reorganization of medicine, sponsored by the medical societies, are tremendous. Neither Government, nor industry, nor anybody else could touch it."

As far back as last June, Dr. Garfield was campaigning for the three principles embodied in the Kaiser plan—pre-payment, group practice and adequate facilities. These, he told the American Medical Association's Section on Preventive and Industrial Medicine and Public Health, offer a complete solution to the medical-care problem. He reasons as follows:

Although some 300 different plans, most of them pre-paid, have been developed, they are too limited in scope, too expensive, and have numerous other shortcomings.

Three Groups Suggested

The reorganization of medicine on a group-practice basis has been delayed too long.

The free choice of the future is the free choice of a group. If the profession had the courage to reorganize on that principle, it could forestall the threat of Federal intervention.

"The medical profession until recently has done little to stop this trend except violently to oppose any changes in the status quo," says the Kaiser-plan head. "Now there appears to be a definite drive to forestall the threat of Government intervention by medical-society-operated pre-payment plans.

"Medical society plans have been miserable failures. Starting with comprehensive coverage, they have dropped back to limited coverage. They have been sabotaged by the profession. They have created no facilities, and have not stimulated quality care. They are too expensive. They do not provide for the practice of preventive medicine.

"Medicine has developed to the point where the individual physician can no longer be a separate enterprise; the individual group can be. There is a tendency to be conservative and move slowly in such matters, but it would be wise in this problem to take bold steps."

In essence, this is the Garfield plan:

"The doctors of the state could voluntarily align themselves into three groups: (1) those who desire to stay in private practice and do some consulting work and teaching with the group; (2) those who desire to continue part-time private practice and do part-time group work on a salary; (3) those who desire to do full-time work on a budgeted yearly income.

"Probably the older men with large private practice would choose the first, and, since they serve the well-to-do, they would not in the least be harmed by the new setup.

"The second group would be composed of middle-of-the-road men who would not wish to give up the practices they have built, and would, on the other hand, wish to keep in contact with the group.

"The third group would be composed of the younger men and probably many returning from the armed services. A board of physicians of high caliber could then fit these full-time men into ideal or as nearly ideal groups as possible."

Let Doctors Take Initiative

Then, says Dr. Garfield, "health centers would be built, with careful planning, so as to reach all the people (city and country), and these groups of doctors placed in the health centers. Each center would serve a trading area of 30,000 to 40,000 people. Radiating from these centers would be diagnostic and treatment centers to bring readily accessible preventive and curative medicine to the entire population."

Is medicine likely to adopt any such plan? Probably not, Dr. Garfield told Medical Economics. "I am rather pessimistic about the possibilities of the medical profession getting behind the plan without intelligent leadership. Such leadership seems to be sadly lacking.

"Half-way measures will, I believe, lead to complete Federalization of medicine, which will no doubt result in an improvement over the present distribution of medical care. In my opinion, this could be done by physicians themselves if they would take the initiative and really do the job right."

THOSE $100 NECKTIES

From the Gadsden (Ala.) Times.

Shades of 1918! Memories of awning-striped silk shirts selling for $25 along Workman's Row! So far, we thought that sort of thing had pretty much been avoided in this war. But you never can tell.

Now comes word that out on the West Coast they are selling hand-painted cravats for $100 each. We reckon any necktie that sells for more than $2.50 is worthy of being called a cravat.

The OPA says it has been advised that these works of art are being sold for such outlandish prices, but the OPA admits that it doesn't know just what to do about it. First of all, the OPA has only heard about the 100-buck neckties, not seen them. Then there are no OPA ceiling prices on works of art.

Are these neckties works of art, or are they merely wearing apparel? Well, anything no bigger than a necktie that costs $100 ought to be a work of art, if it's not.

We don't know exactly what to call these 100-buck cravats—but we do know what to call folks who pay good money for them.

Candid Book by Negro Novelist Tells of Growing Up in South

"Black Boy," by Richard Wright. (Harper & Bros., New York.)

Richard Wright's story of his childhood and youth is as tensely written and almost as grim in atmosphere as "Native Son," his best-selling novel of 1940. Indeed, there is so great a resemblance in the spirit of the two books as to demonstrate that many of the author's early experiences and impressions went into the creation of Bigger Thomas, central figure of the tragic novel.

Wright, born in 1908, grew up in the Deep South, at Jackson, Miss., and Memphis. The theme of his biography is the blighting frustration imposed upon the Negro by the rigid racial taboos of the region. Wright knew what his "place" was supposed to be under the prevailing social pattern; he could sometimes force himself to go through the required forms, but he never inwardly accepted them. So he felt the discriminations and injustices keenly, and his book is a powerful protest against them.

The book is also a candid self-portrait, a fact that lessens its impact as a plea for inter-racial fair play. Many of the author's torments and conflicts, as he unsparingly relates them, had no direct connection with the color line. There were fierce family clashes, rebellion against his parents, violent quarrels with uncles and aunts, revolt against teachers, brutal fights with other boys, beginning in the early years when the child knew nothing of racial distinctions. In relations with his own people as well as with whites, the sensitive, stubborn boy was, to put it mildly, difficult.

This refractory personality aside, the book still is a case history that offers abundant substance for thought. How much, the reader will ask himself through the pages, is white society responsible for this human being's maladjustments and tortures? Poverty and ignorance and lack of proper early care are in the picture. So are poor schooling, superstition, exploitation, fear of lynch law. There is much in the vivid episodes about all these to stir deeply the conscience of the racial majority.

Wright, gifted and ambitious, rose above his sordid surroundings. He studied and read, determined to become a writer, struggled desperately to hold a job long enough to pay his way to the North. The volume ends with his departure, at 19, for Chicago, where he hoped to find economic opportunity.

He did become a writer, an honest, forceful writer, whose success does not make him forgetful of a bitterly unhappy youth or of the system that is at least partly responsible for the Bigger Thomases and drags them to their doom.

FERD GOTTLIEB.

A Debunking of Nazi Propaganda

Nazi propaganda has its own distorted version of history since 1918, and its refutation is important in doing justice after this war and in drafting a secure peace. Lindley Fraser, professor of political economy at Aberdeen University and BBC commentator, analyzes and debunks this propaganda, point by point, in "Germany Between Two Wars" (Oxford).

The author begins with the legend that the German Army was not really defeated in World War I, but was "stabbed in the back," and ends with the fables about Hitler's pre-war desire for peace and his contention that the present conflict was forced on Germany. The book should be valuable not only in re-educating Germans and enlightening sentimentalists in Allied countries, but for its warning that similar deceptions may be practiced again if other peoples do not remain alert.

DOROTHY THOMPSON

The Patterns of World Peace

ANXIETY about the peace, which cannot be denied to exist, is due, I believe, to the extraordinary nature of our times. Before this war actually began, the world had been, for a full decade, in a state of fermentation and convulsion. Various strictly national attempts were made to mitigate the problems or suppress them by naked force. Then the all-embracing war, far from solving the problems, has accelerated them everywhere, added new problems, and suggested new directions. However and whenever hostilities may cease, we shall not have peace until the ferment has subsided into those forms of life which will endure with reasonable stability for the coming epoch.

To foresee these forms is beyond the mind of any human being. The shape of things to come cannot, therefore, emerge from a blueprint, but from innumerable attempts to establish patterns in innumerable fields. Therefore speculations about a peace table fall short of either the needs or realities of our times.

Series of Peace Meetings.

Actually we have seen, and will continue to see, a whole series of peace conferences. Our hope is that within the next 10 or 20 years the new pattern of life will take form out of all these conferences and the play of public opinion upon them. The prerequisite for this is that the actual power in the world, as represented by the Big Three, will continue unitedly to guard these processes without freezing them by the exercise of naked force, realizing that our age is of transition and chance.

Of the many conferences—Bretton Woods was one; the UNRRA Conference, the Business Conference at Rye, the Air Conference in Chicago, the ILO Conference in Philadelphia, and the International Trade Union Conference in Britain are others—all are attempts to find the pattern of peace.

The fact that few, if any of them, were wholly successful does not detract from their supreme significance.

We realize today that peace is not merely agreements reached between political powers, but is collaboration and harmony between international functions. It is possible—and it is even probable—that when the final pattern of a peaceful international society emerges, Tehran, Dumbarton Oaks, Mexico City, Yalta and even San Francisco will appear of lesser rather than greater importance.

Humanity's Real Problems.

For the real problems of human society are: how can the people of this world be fed? How can currencies be stabilized? How can workers mutually raise their standards of living? How can economic depressions be prevented? How can air and other traffic be satisfactorily organized for most of mankind? Still other problems will require other international commissions. For instance, one is needed to consider migration and colonization.

The satisfactory solution of these problems is the antidote to war. The organization of states and of force is to hold up a structure inside which these problems can be handled in reason, and can assume the prime importance which is theirs.

Obviously it is impossible to create a rational integration of the chief human functions, the integration of which would mean peace, unless we can at least postpone, for 50 years, the specter of war.

It is the specter of war, and preparation for war, which prevents any rational integration of human functions. Autarchial economies, political pressures to prevent effective international labor organization, trade wars, imperial preference programs, monopolistic tendencies in world markets, these and many other things which disrupt the common interests of mankind on this globe are practiced in anticipation of possible future military clashes.

On the other hand, international collaboration does not merely nor chiefly consist in agreements signed by heads of states, but in the actual doing of things together. The moment commissions of labor organizations from a score of countries sit down, even to consider together how standards can be created by which workers in one country do not undercut those in another, a real international society begins to form.

A Rooted Society.

And until there is an international society, there will be no reliable international organization. Any organization, of any kind, can very easily be broken up. But a society, once it takes firm roots, and offers advantages to all of its members, will survive almost anything, including set-backs and defeats.

A world political organization is therefore only useful as a framework within which, with setbacks, difficulties, failures and fresh starts, an international society can slowly create itself. Until it is created, the framework is essential. Once it is created the framework could all but disappear, and nobody would miss it.

So no peace table, no single gathering of potentates, as we saw at Versailles, will settle the affairs of this dynamic age. We shall find no surcease of the effort and the struggle again to create out of chaos a world which has stability, harmony and form. It is given this generation of men to live in a world of unprecedented danger and unparalleled opportunity, and there is no way out except to face it, and face it for at least a generation, and probably much more.

Solution in Asia?

WITH the Ledo-Stilwell road from Burma to China open, with the American Navy again in possession of Manila Bay, with American landings on Iwo Island about 750 miles from Japan proper, the question how to treat the beaten Japs is not only timely but urgent.

Clearly this decision is going to be made by us in concert with our Chinese, our Soviet and our British Allies. Yet obviously our American share in it ought to be part of a long-term American policy toward the Far East. Is there yet such an American policy?

If so, most of us professionals on international affairs have failed to discover it.

Mr. Lattimore's Book.

Now, in a small, 207-page volume, "Solution in Asia," Owen Lattimore urges our State Department to hurry up and get a modern, coherent policy, and he outlines the main points of the policy he would like. Speaking out of a lifetime of experience in and study of the Far East, Mr. Lattimore throws caution to the winds and speaks dogmatically.

The most challenging of his views is the last sentence of his book. "The time has come to give Asiatic policy a top priority in America's relations with the world," he writes.

Equally forthright are others. The colonial system is doomed, he says. The thing for America to do is to recognize this fact and begin to work with, rather than on, the Asiatic peoples.

Asia is inevitably going to be heavily influenced by the Soviet Union. Mr. Lattimore follows the Russians in speaking of Soviet "democracy"—largely, it appears, because to the various peoples of Asia it seems democratic "because they are allowed to integrate themselves with it, instead of being subordinated to it as colonial subjects."

Logical Progression.

Another key view of Mr. Lattimore: "Asia will largely determine the degree to which the capitalist world and the collectivist world can co-operate."

From such cardinal opinions, certain corollaries follow logically:

(1) The Mikado must go. There will be no place for his sort of medieval mythical mischief in a spot where "Soviet democracy" is competing with—democracy.

(2) Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek should democratize his regime and come to terms with the Chinese Communists. Mr. Lattimore does not say, but he implies very strongly that if—once the Japs are beaten — civil war in China should start again between an unregenerate Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists, the latter, with Soviet backing, might win.

(3) The economic pattern of future Asia will probably be a mixture of private capitalism and state or co-operative Socialism—what the Germans call "gemischte Wirtschaft."

What about these notions? For in writing in such a positive manner (openly scornful of American so-called "experts" on Asiatic affairs), Mr. Lattimore invites comment.

Yes, this is the right American line—with two reservations. Certainly the colonial system is doomed—with or without the assent of the Occident. The sooner we (and the British, the Dutch, etc.) recognize this fact, the better. The Soviets want to see it abolished. In a conflict between continental Russia and the "peripheral" democracies, the former holds the high cards.

20 Years Too Soon.

Obviously, the Soviet Union has enormous attraction for the Asiatic peoples. Never having enjoyed self-government, these latter are not offended by the despotic, oriental side of the Soviet system. They are properly attracted by its co-operative tolerance.

Of course, the Mikado must go—and an attempt be made to support a Japanese republic. Obviously, the United States should attempt to bring the Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists together—not to please Pravda, but to stabilize China.

This said, here are the reservations. In wanting to give the American policy toward Asia "top priority," Mr. Lattimore anticipates by about 20 years. During these years, our first American need will be peace. While there is dynamite lying about Asia, Europe will be full of TNT. Therefore, if we have to choose, Europe must still come first.

Moreover, in urging co-operation in the Far East between Western capitalism and Soviet collectivism, is Mr. Lattimore sure that the collectivists will co-operate? Or will they aim at totalitarian monopoly, as in the Soviet Union? Capitalism can remain partial — and thrive? Can Communism?

Certainly Americans interested in these problems are obliged to think about "Solution in Asia."

LT. JOHN BRODHEAD JR. RECEIVES NAVY CROSS

Scored Direct Hit on Japanese Battleship—Others From This Area Cited.

Lt. John Brodhead Jr., 27 years old, pilot of a carrier-based dive bomber, has been awarded the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism in scoring a direct bombing hit on a Japanese battleship in the vicinity of the Philippines last October, in the face of extremely intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire. CITY ART MUSEUM OBTAINS PAINTING BY ANDRE DERAIN

'At the Suresnes Ball,' Work of Contemporary French Artist, Bought for $6000.

(Picture in Everday Magazine.)

"At the Suresnes Ball" by the contemporary French painter, Andre Derain, has been purchased by the City Art Museum from the Max Safron Galleries, 415 North Twelfth boulevard, it was announced today.

The work was painted in 1903 while Derain was still a conscript putting in compulsory military service at Vosges. He was then 23 years old and under the influence of Gauguin.

Derain was a youthful member of the French group known as "Fauves" and one of his paintings was shown besides works of Matisse, Rouault and Vlamanck in the gallery of the Paris Autumn Salon of 1905, where the expression, "Fauves" originated.

The painting, about 70 by 55 inches, has been placed on view in gallery 11. It served as the coverpiece for a monograph on Derain published in 1941. The museum paid $6000 for it.

FOXHOLE 'CHURCH' ON IWO HOLDS ONLY 5 YANKS AT A TIME

WITH THE THIRD MARINE DIVISION ON IWO, Feb. 27 (Delayed) (AP).—A chaplain picked out a foxhole some 500 yards behind the front line.

"This will be our church," he said.

Sunday services began at 2 p. m. They were brief. Only five men could kneel down in the foxhole at a time.

Japanese shells fell in the area while they prayed bareheaded.

The chaplain, Navy Lt. John E. Hollingsworth, Birmingham, Ala., paid no heed to the enemy fire.

As one group left, another replaced it.

The Chaplain told the men that Iwo probably had been a pagan land since the Japanese took it over in the 1880s.

This second Sunday of Lent, he said, doubtless marked the first Christian services ever held here.

Victory Garden Contest Winner.

G. H. Hertel of Affton was judged winner of the St. Louis zone victory garden contest sponsored by The Pullman Co. for its employes, it was announced today. He is a Pullman conductor. Hertel was awarded a $25 war bond. Second place in the zone contest was won by W. H. Grimes of Cincinnati.

PIANIST ITURBI CHARMS CLAMOROUS AUDIENCE

Bobby-Socks Brigade in Evidence at His Recital in Auditorium.

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

Jose Iturbi, the movie star and pianist, played a piano recital last night at Kiel Auditorium before an audience of about 4000. As it happened this was not the record for this house because recently applied regulations no longer permit the sale of standing room. The eager listeners who filled all the available seats and almost crowded Iturbi off the stage however, undoubtedly had a greater diversity of ages than any group before drawn into a St. Louis auditorium.

Indeed a survey of the audience warranted the conclusion that Iturbi had not only become a threat to Frank Sinatra but had also made inroads among the followers of Nelson Eddy and Mickey Mouse. There were girls in bobby socks, boys in knee length raincoats and children still wearing the nether parts of their snowsuits in evidence all over the place. Some of Iturbi's customers in fact, had not yet learned to walk. One of these was heard to cry out just as the Spanish pianist was about to launch into a Hungarian rhapsody but whether it was in ecstacy or protest was not learned.

Two Divisions to Program.

The first part of his program consisted of two sonatinas by Scarlatti, the best known Sonata in F-Major by Mozart and Beethoven's sonata, "Apassionata." In the second part, Iturbi's two identities were more nearly merged and in his encores, he frankly addressed himself to his new, large and by now clamorous audience. As it happened his Chopin—including the "Military Polonaise" which was loudly demanded from the floor—and his selections by Morton Gould, Debussy and de Falla went much better than his opening group.

Iturbi played the two Scarlatti sonatinas very slowly and with so much pedal that the harmonies sang with a romantic ardor that would not have been out of place in Schumann. He also used the pedal consistently as a first aid to his legato passages in the Mozart sonata. The performance of the latter work was on the whole mannered, and deficient in both definition and over-all design.

Busy Autographing Programs.

The Beethoven sonata had many qualities—propulsion and wholeness of effect were not among them. Iturbi's attention to detail was often expressive but in a way that weakened the forward drive of the music and turned it into a series of episodes.

The enthusiasm of the audience which was held pretty well in check until Iturbi had gotten safely past Beethoven, grew progressively during the rest of the evening and reached its full flowering with the encores.

As midnight approached Iturbi was still autographing programs.

Committee Votes Debt Limit Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Legislation increasing the nation's public debt limit to 300 billion dollars was approved today by the House Ways and Means committee. The present debt ceiling is 260 billion dollars and the actual debt about 235 billions.

Prep Basket Teams Begin Play Tonight for Place in State Meet

Cleveland, Junior Bills Are Favored

By Harold Tuthill

Eight of the classiest high school basketball teams this district has seen in some years will compete in the regional tournament starting tonight at Washington University's Field House with a doubleheader.

St. Louis U. High (20-3), although without league affiliation the past season, is rated highly and will meet Webster Groves (17-4), the Suburban champion, at 7:30 o'clock in what promises to be one of the most exciting games of the tournament. Following that will be a game between Cleveland (21-2), defending district champion and two-time Public High School League winner, and Normandy (16-5), the No. 2 Suburban school, at 8:45.

It would be quite an accomplishment for the County schools if they were to survive and meet in Friday's semifinals, but it appears as if the Junior Billikens and Cleveland are a mite too strong. Yet, such is the caliber of the teams, that any one of the eight in the field would be a worthy St. Louis representative in next week's state tournament at Springfield.

The quarterfinals will be completed tomorrow night with a lower bracket doubleheader in which Beaumont (20-3), the City runner-up and South Side Catholic (16-6), the No. 2 Prep League team, meet in the curtain raiser at 7:30. The nightcap will bring together Maplewood (12-7) of the Suburban League, rated by some as the "hottest" team in the district today, and McBride (14-9), which occasionally has shown flashes of brilliance, and, at times has disappointed its followers with a substandard performance.

So, with two Public High School teams, two Preparatory League, three Suburban and one independent team battling for one position, the field not only is a strong one, but also one of wide representation. Quarterfinal rounds survivors will meet Friday night in the semifinals and Saturday night the champion will be crowned after a third-place game between the semifinal losers.

H. Clay Van Reen, a member of the Post-Dispatch All-Star football and basketball boards, will be one of the officials and Art Jones will be the other. The admission price for each session will be 55 cents.

Ordnance to Play Curtiss for Title

Curtiss-Wright and St. Louis Ordnance Plant will decide the Y.M.C.A. Industrial League basketball championship in the final game Friday night at Sherman Park.

The teams survived last night's semifinals as the Ordnance Plant eliminated the Wagners, 49 to 45, and Curtiss-Wright shaded Mallinckrodt, 48 to 38, after being tied at the half, 23-all.

The Industrial champion will oppose the Meramec Caverns, open division winner, for the Municipal title in a best-out-of-three series starting next Monday.

The girls' division completed its league schedule with Helen Stephens pouring in 15 points to help Curtiss-Wright defeat McDonnell, 37 to 9, and the Navy Waves disposed of Emerson, 17 to 9.

Engineers Win, 69-28.

The Granite City Engineers Depot defeated the Standard Steel Springs basketball team, 69 to 28, last night at Granite City.

Three St. Louisans in Quarterfinals Round of Western Gloves Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Three St. Louis Golden Gloves champions will be in action in the quarterfinals of the Midwestern title tourney at the Stadium tonight. They are Johnny Slaznik, 118; Curtis Smith, 135, and John Gulley, 175 pounds.

Slaznik moved into the quarterfinals Monday night, while Smith and Gulley advanced with victories last night.

Another trio of St. Louisans—Willie Jackson, 147 pounds; Skeets Gillam, 160 and George Gallas, heavy, fell by the wayside in the second night's battling.

Smith gained a victory over Richard Czerniak of Milwaukee, to move into the quarterfinals, while Gulley stopped George Lawrence of Kansas City, in the second round, after drawing a bye in the first round.

In the heavy group, Gallas won from Tom Cardola of Columbus, in his first match, but in the second in which he was outweighed by 50 pounds, he was beaten by Pete Blouir of Gary, Ind. Gilbert Garcia of Fort Worth, eliminated Jackson, while Gillam lost to Jim McGrath, another Fort Worth representative.

The 64 entrants in the quarterfinals remained after two days of fighting.

The group went into tonight's bouts with two spectacular young heavyweights and a middleweight drawing the spotlight. Adolfo Quijano of El Paso, Tex., 23-year-old Army Air Forces enlistee, scored two knockouts in a total of 65 seconds last night. He flattended Anton Thostenson of Minneapolis in 35 seconds in one bout, and it took him only 30 seconds to finish off James Henderson of Fort Wayne, Ind., in a second match.

Sgt. George Siebert, of Pittsburgh, 22-year-old nephew of the late Stanley Ketchell, former world middleweight champ, had little trouble in polishing off John Steiner, Omaha, Neb. Corp. Tom Attra, Fort Worth, Tex., was easily the class of the middleweights.

Tonight's bouts will bring the tournament down to the semifinals. On March 9, the survivors will battle for the championships.

Mancuso Asks Phils to Send Him a Contract

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28 (AP).—Gus Mancuso, 39-year-old veteran National League catcher, probably will play ball this season with the Philadelphia Phillies, General Manager Herb Pennock said today.

Pennock said he received a letter from Mancuso at his Houston, Tex., home stating he was "satisfied he could help the club."

"He asked us to mail him a contract, and we have done so," Pennock said.

Mancuso, who entered the major leagues in 1930, was given his unconditional release last year by the New York Giants after appearing in 80 games as a receiver and pinch hitter. He batted .253.

"More baseball won't slow me up," Mancuso said. Pennock quoted the veteran catcher as saying he expected to catch at least 80 to 100 games.

Mancuso would become the second veteran to be acquired by the Phils in less than a month. First-baseman Jimmy Foxx signed several weeks ago.

The addition of Mancuso is expected to bolster the Phils' catching staff. Pennock revealed today that last year's No. 1 receiver, Johnny Peacock, of Fremont, N. C., will enter the armed forces shortly.

Hal Spindel of Seattle and Andy Seminick, who played with Buffalo last season, are other Bluejay catching possibilities, Pennock said.

Feldman Rejected; Likely to Play Again

FORT SMITH, Ark., Feb. 28 (AP).—Harry Feldman of Fort Smith, New York Giant pitcher, said today he was rejected for Army service at Little Rock yesterday and probably will play ball with the Giants again this season.

The 25-year-od pitcher, who is married and has two children, has been classified 4-F since early in the war because of a respiratory ailment and the rejection yesterday was for the same reason, he said.

Feldman said he had returned unsigned a Giant contract because of the uncertainty of his Army status.

Scott Field to Play Jay Bees for Title

Scott Field could clinch the Military League basketball championship with a victory over Jefferson Barracks in a game tonight on the Flyers' floor. Scott Field won the first half title.

The Flyers own a season's record of 24 victories and three defeats. They will entertain St. Louis University tomorrow night in a return match with the Billikens, who lost the first meeting, 57 to 50.

In a preliminary tonight, the Scott Field Officers will seek their fourteenth triumph in 20 starts in a game with Eden Seminary. Previously the Officers defeated Eden.

Squash Semifinals At Y. M. H. A. Tonight

Semifinal matches in the championship squash tournament sponsored by the Y. M. H. A. will be played tongiht at the Y.

First round and quarterfinal round matches were played last night.

The results:

...Sanford Byers won from Louis Roff, 15-13, 13-18, 15-11; Sid Grossman won from Rose Shoenberg, 15-7, 15-14; Harry Mendelson won from Harold Sparks, 15-11, 15-14; Ed Meyers won on forfeit from Israel Dannis; Fred Urfater won on forfeit from Mike Freund; Irving Roseiman won from Irvin Remskoff, 15-9, 15-11; David Sisser won from William Pohiman, 15-7, 12-15, 15-9; Malcon Jacobs won from Marvin Moldasky, 15-1, 15-3...

Chaminade Defeats St. Joseph, 45-33

Chaminade and St. Joseph closed the Catholic League basketball campaign last night with Chaminade winning, 45 to 33, at North Side Catholic.

Chaminade finished third in the race with seven victories and three defeats, while St. Joseph wound up tied with Coyle for fifth place, each with one victory and nine defeats.

One for the Book— Protest Is Filed In Bowling Loop

The Board of Directors of the All-Star Bowling League will meet at the Heidel Recreation next Monday night to pass on a protest lodged by the Hoffmeisters regarding one of the games won by the Hermanns in Monday night's round.

It appears that the Hermanns used a substitute for Joe Maltzmann for the first seven frames and then had Joe bowl the last three. The game ended in a tie. When it came to the rolloff, the Hermanns wanted to use Maltzmann, but the Hoffmeisters objected. So what did the Hermanns do. They took 10 per cent of the subs' average, 17 pins in this case, and went on to win. And then the protest.

League rules state that no handicaps can be taken in a scratch league and that the Hermanns really should have used the substitute in the rolloff.

If the protest is decided in the Hermann's favor, it will leave the team one game out of first place. But if the Hoffmeisters are upheld, it will drop the former match-game champions to a tie for second, two games behind the Laux-Hyde Parks.

Alton Survives By One Point in Regional Meet

Granite City, the doormat of the Southwestern Conference, gave the mighty Alton basketball champions a real scare in their regional high school battle at Wood River last night and when the tumult subsided it was found the Hilltoppers had survived by a point, 32 to 31.

The Happy Warriors battled Alton all the way, being tied at half-time, 16-all. At the three-quarter mark, Alton led, 24 to 23. Granite City then went into the lead, 31 to 29, with only two minutes left. Jim Schotters pulled Alton up to within a point of a tie with a free throw and, with little more than a minute to go, Joe Smith dropped in the winning field goal for the Hilltoppers.

In the other game, the host Wood River team had little trouble eliminating Western Military Academy, 55 to 29, in a rough game. Fifty-two fouls were called, 27 on Wood River.

Belleville Township High marked the opening of its regional tournament by eliminating Belleville Cathedral, 53 to 33. In the other game, Dupo disposed of Waterloo, 48 to 36.

One of the highest scores registered in the area was West Frankfort's 109 to 42 triumph over Christopher in the West Frankfort regional.

John Baby Hurt As Flyers Lose Another Game

By W. J. McGoogan

There is nothing but more bad news to report about the Flyers today as they dropped their fourth successive game last night, losing to the Hershey Bears, 4 to 2, at The Arena, and at the same time Defense Man Johnny Baby suffered a possible fracture of his right shoulder.

So as the club prepares to tackle another killing schedule it is shorthanded. The Flyers play in Pittsburgh tonight, Providence tomorrow night, Saturday in Hershey and return to St. Louis to meet Providence next Tuesday.

If the club were in a contending position that outlook would give Coach Hap Emms the heebee jeebies but as it is, it just means a little more personal discomfort for the men, as traveling is no bargain these days.

Meaningless Late Rally.

The Flyers seemed to be about at their worst against Hershey, the Bears rolling up two goals in the first period and two more in the second while the Flyers got their two in the last session when they were all but meaningless.

Webster counted after about three minutes of play for Hershey and Calladine got another tally four minutes later. In the second period, Cooper scored after five minutes and Robertson made it 4 to 0, six minutes later.

After nearly nine minutes in the third period, Giroux scored on a nice bit of combination play, aided by Blake and Holouka while Lynn, helped by Hergert and Kendall, tallied in the last minute.

Busy Night for Goalies.

The goalies of both teams played well. Highton made some great saves and so did Henry, substituting for Damore in the Hershey net.

Some rough work went unpenalized in the second period when Webster and Floreck tangled in a near fight and it was only a short time later that Baby hit the ice, checked hard, and had to leave the game. He was sent to St. John's Hospital.

A surprisingly good crowd of 3511 paying customers attended. This was better than expected considering the recent showing of the Flyers and the weather.

There were only four penalties in the game.

The triumph added two points to Hershey's edge over Providence and it is almost a cinch that the Bears will land in the playoff.

WRAY'S COLUMN

No Post-War Gravy Bowl For Football?

POSTWAR planners who envision huge expansion of professional football may feel a trifle less mercurial this morning, after having read remarks made by Carl Snavely, long-term contract coach at the University of North Carolina.

Snavely, a successful former Cornell football pilot, told an athletic club group at High Point, N. C., that not only was the professional game monopolistic but that its draft system stymied the player and gave him no chance to negotiate for his services or to better himself.

He added that he doubted very much if the high postwar expectations of professional football prosperity would develop, if and when a drop came in the war business boom. . . . Lack of their own permanent athletic plants was another drawback, he concluded.

A still greater menace, one not brought up by Snavely, would arise if plans to add two more major circuits to pro football activity are carried out. . . . The customer supply hasn't always been adequate for one pro league. . . . Add two more loops of from 16 to 22 teams combined, and we doubt if there will be enough "gravy" left to soil the soup-and-fish bosoms of the mourners at the end-of-the-season banquet.

If competitive circuits are maintained, with two and even three rival clubs in some towns, you get an idea of what is likely to happen. . . . Competition may be the life of trade, but it seems sure death to sport attractions, when carried to extremes.

Outlook Is Blue Rather Than Rosy.

IT appears that the rosters of all eight of the American League clubs have been completed. . . . They are being made public in the form of the American League "Red Book." . . . By mid-April they may be calling it the "blue" book, reflecting the feelings of the club owners, when man-power readjustments have to be made.

Signed contract returns from big league players have been few. . . . But there have been some holdouts—you wonder why. . . . Most of the players are stalling for time, to find out just what's going to be what in this work-fight-or-jail business. . . . Can't blame the boys too much.

John Bull Still Wants His Racing.

IT probably adds nothing to the comfort of the horse-racing fraternity to note that while the sport is off indefinitely in this country, the pari-mutuel industry is still rolling along in England.

The announcement last week end of the date of the English Derby and the two important meetings at Ascot and Pontefract called attention to the activity abroad. . . . John Bull for a long time has been the No. 1 breeder of thoroughbreds. . . . And apparently he is striving hard not to lose his grip on this situation.

Already Great Britain has suffered the loss of many of its standout sires, some of which, like the famous and costly Blenheim II, Mahmoud, Bahram and others, are now in this country.

As concerns the operation of race tracks in England and this country, the situation is entirely different. . . . There are no long hauls to interfere with war transportation. . . . Racers can be vanned or even walked from track to track, in some instances.

Transportation Is Trans-Continental.

IN this country journeys are transcontinental and the ODT has an important factor to take into consideration in the shifting of horses and stable hands from place to place. . . . Absenteeism also was a thorn in the side of the war plants in vicinities where racing was active.

Efforts to lift the lid in particular sectors probably will not ease the situation in this country. . . . The New York area wants racing resumed there, where a number of tracks are within street-car distance of patrons. . . . But so far the answer has been that exceptions can't be made, even in districts where transportation difficulties are negligible.

So far the status seems to indicate a continuance of the racing blackout until the manpower situation and transportation conditions ease up considerably. . . . Racing people are hoping for a reopening of track gates by midsummer—perhaps sooner. . . . But it's no time to indulge in wishful thinking about it.

HERE'S ANOTHER QUEER ONE, in view of the blackout against racing in this country. . . . Canada is going ahead with its mutuel business, opening at Woodbine Park, Toronto, May 19. . . . At least seven Canadian tracks have arranged to go forward with programs, unless—circumstances unforseen interfere. . . . What appears to be the go sign has been given Canadian racing promoters by the Department of Agriculture, which has the sayso.

Pessimistic

CARL SNAVELY, head football coach at the University of N. Carolina, who in a speech last Monday night reported by the Associated Press, expressed doubts that pro football would enjoy the postwar boom it anticipates.

Minors Still Without Word From Majors Over Pact Threat; Landis' Memorial Plan Offered

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP).—Minor league strategists, seeking to broaden the scope of their baseball dealing with the "higher-ups," sat back and waited today for reverberations—if any—from the major leagues on their threat to abrogate the major-minor agreement.

The strategists, ten of them chosen to recommend revisions in the major-minor pact which expires next January, were silent as their three-day meeting drew toward a close. Monday, in a formal statement, the group had demanded a voice in selection of the new commissioner to succeed the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis, and had gone on record as favoring:

"Certain legislation for the protection of the minor leagues that would enable the National Association to either reaffirm or cancel the agreement governing relationship between the major and minor leagues."

Don't Want to be Pushed Around.

Yesterday, Tommy Richardson, committee chairman and president of the Eastern League, said the intent of the protest regarding selection of a commissioner by presidents of the 16 major league clubs, without giving the minors a voice, was to pave the way for abrogation of the major-minor league pact "if the new commissioner, whoever he may be, tries to get too tough with us."

Major league officials have made no comment on the committee's threat to abrogate the agreement, and of that Richardson said:

"That's all right if the majors don't want to comment. We just let them know how we're feeling and they can think it over."

The minors raised a similar cry 24 years ago when Landis was selected commissioner, but it was ignored by the majors.

Richardson declined to say whether the committee amended the agreement to eliminate the clause denying their right to legal recourse in commissioner decisions. He also was silent as to whether the group recommended a hike in player-draft prices from the $7500 maximum.

Session Ends Today.

The committee concludes its sessions today with a rules revision meeting. Although mainly concerned with player technicalities, the rules also involve territorial rights of minor leagues and may be revised to provide greater protection. All the recommended revisions will be brought before the December meeting of the national association for final approval.

A recommendation was made by the committee that the National Association start a Landis memorial award presentation to outstanding players each season. The awards would be made annually by the 44 minor leagues, only 12 of which are currently active because of the war.

The committee deferred action on the selection of a minor league promotional director, an office recommended by the National Association at its Buffalo meeting. Chairman Richardson said the proposal was tabled for a year because minor league activities are frozen at present.

Boom for Farley As Commissioner; Frick Losing Votes

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).

JAMES FARLEY moved out front in the baseball commissioner race today as a bloc of clubowners was reported shifting support from President Ford Frick of the National League to the former postmaster general.

Although Farley never has said he is a candidate for the job, it is believed he would be receptive.

Owners were sticking to a "no comment" reply and the four-man committee, named to flush out candidates, had postponed its first formal meeting. However, this group was supposed to make a preliminary report in 30 days which would make Monday, March 5, the deadline.

SHORT WAVES

GARVIN HAMNER, 20, and his brother, GRANVILLE, 17, of Richmond, Va., have signed their 1945 contract with the Philadelphia Nationals. . . . They plan to report to the Phils' training camp at Wilmington, Del., March 23. . . . JOHN (BUNNY) WARSTLER of North Canton, O., has been elected captain of next year's Yale basketball team.

RAY (SUGAR) ROBINSON, outstanding welterweight fighter, has been sent to Fort Jay for further examination after undergoing his second pre-induction Army physical in New York. . . . Robinson has an honorable discharge from the Army. . . . ARTHUR JACKSON has been named as the Eastern representative in the heavyweight division for the Golden Gloves tournament of champions, March 12, 13 and 14. . . . He and his brother, Gerald, fought their way into the Eastern finals, but refused to fight it out, and Arthur was selected for the title event.

FRANK MARIO, winger with the Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League, will join the Canadian Army within a month. . . . Under a new ruling by State Boxing Commissioner JOHN J. HETTCHE of Michigan, out-of-town fighters will have to work out at least twice in the presence of a commission member before making their Detroit debuts. . . . Issuance of the regulation was prompted by a bout in Detroit Monday night in which Kid Francis was knocked out by Leon Spencer in the third round after being floored six times.

STEELS LEAD BROAD STOCK PRICE UPTURN

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—Steels led the stock market higher today on a wave of buying that spread to most divisions of the list.

Gains of the leaders ranged from major fractions to about two points.

Off to a fast start, dealings slackened occasionally but still had enough steam to run up an aggregate of around 2,000,000 shares.

Actual sales for day aggregated 1,960,000 shares compared with 1,190,000 shares yesterday.

Of the 976 issues traded in today 644 were higher, 168 lower and 164 unchanged. There were 175 new 1944-45 highs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed up .4 for a new 7-year high at 62.1. The industrial group at 83.8 also made a new high.

Factors in the Upturn.

Good war news helped stimulate demand that apparently grew from a waning of fears additional taxes on speculative gains might get early congressional attention. Another prop to sentiment was the recent technical correction.

U. S. Steel was prominent from its opening rise of ⅞ on a 3000-share block. Bethlehem touched a new peak and Republic and Youngstown were higher. Santa Fe, New York Central, Great Northern, Goodyear, J. I. Case, Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, American Telephone, General Electric, Westinghouse and Western Union "A" also were active climbers.

Trend On the Curb.

Curb stocks on the advanced side included McWilliams Dredging, Aluminum Ltd., and American Gas & Electric.

The report of dividends declared noted increased payments to stockholders of certain companies, making the record of improved disbursements a sizable one as to the last month or two. Among today's additions were American Locomotive which voted a payment of 35 cents on the common stock against previous distributions of 25 cents, and Ruberoid Co. at 25 cents a previous of 15 cents.

Day's 15 Leaders.

GAINS IN RAIL BOND GIVE LIST A STEADY UNDERTONE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—Railroad issues extended their gains by fractions to more than a point today, giving the bond market a steady understone in fairly active trading.

Late firm spots included bonds of the Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, North Western, Rock Island, Illinois Central, International Great Northern, Katy and Missouri Pacific. New Haven loans were narrow.

The various direct bonds of the Seaboard Airline and certificates representing the issues were exceptionally firm for a time. Certificates for the 4s of 1950, apparently out of line with the unstamped bonds, moved up more than 6 points to a price about even with the bonds. Certificates for the 6s of 1950 also moved up in line with the bonds.

Others ahead included loans of the Southern Pacific, Pittsburgh & West Virginia Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron, Northern Pacific, New York Central, Morris & Essex, Lehigh Valley and Erie.

Investment-rated corporates and United States Governments were less active than in recent sessions but held a fully steady undertone.

American Telephone 3s, Santa Fe 4s and Atlantic Coast Line 4½s were among others heading higher.

Rails continued to the fore in late trading. Boston & Maine 4½s ended up ⅞ at 75½; Chicago Great Western 4s added 1⅞ at 97½, Big Four 4½s advanced 1½ to 91½ and Rio Grande Western 4s moved up a point to 64. Childs Co. 5s lost 2½ at 95.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—The First Boston Corp. today offered a new issue of 15 million dollars Province of Quebec 2 per cent non-callable debentures at par. Proceeds from the sale will be used by the Canadian Province to refund a similar amount of 4½ per cent debentures due in 1950.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. has called for redemption on April 1 at par and interest its outstanding 5 per cent bonds amounting to $11,035,000 which will be paid off from proceeds of a bank loan.

The bank credit, arranged with a group of banks in New York, Denver, Pueblo and San Francisco, will run for 10 years with an average interest rate of a little more than 3 per cent.

Participating in the loan were the First National Bank of Denver, the Denver National Bank, the Colorado National Bank and the First National Bank of Pueblo.

The refunding represented the first major step in the affairs of the company of Allen & Co. and associates following purchase of the controlling interests in Colorado Fuel & Iron from John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Rockefeller Center last December.

CORPORATION REPORTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—B. F. Goodrich Co., reports consolidated net income for 1944 of $12,015,842, equal after preferred dividends to $7.64 a common share, against $11,584,501 or $7.31 a common share in the preceding year. The company provided $3,500,000 in 1944 for contingencies, compared with four million dollars set aside in 1943, in each case before computing net profits.

Homstake Mining Co. reports for 1944 net loss of $1,148,220, compared with a profit of $346,437, in 1943. Operations were suspended throughout the year, the report said, but mine and plant were maintained in good condition for a resumption of activity.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 27 (AP).—Gross revenues of the Ryan Aeronautical Co. and subsidiaries total $40,085,433 for the 12 months ended Oct. 31, 1944, compared with $25,357,542 for 1943, T. Claude Ryan, president, reported today.

The per share earning was $1.60, against $1.36 for the preceding period.

Net profit, including postwar refunds held by the Government, was $703,346.

Twin City Rapid Transit Co. and subsidiaries report net income of $832,100 for 1944, or $27.74 a share on preferred stock, against $1,336,137, or $44.53 a share for 1943. On Dec. 31, 1944, dividends on preferred stock were in arrears in the amount of $49 a share.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—New York Central Railroad Co. reported its net income after fixed charges in January was $586,436 compared with $2,856,227 in the same month a year ago, a drop of $2,269,791.

The heavy decrease in income reflected loss of traffic and increased operating costs as a result of the heavy snowfalls and severe weather throughout January. The Central Line running through the worst of the storm belt, was particularly handicapped at such points as Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

Central's freight revenues in January fell more than $3,000,000 from the figure of January, 1944, and passenger revenue was down about $165,000. Railway operating expense was $44,478,953 against $43,770,373 in January, 1944. Net revenue from railway operations amounted to $8,967,723 against $13,871,800 in the same month last year.

SHORT COVERING LIFTS GRAIN MARKET PRICES

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP).—Grain futures were steady to firm today after an early show of strength when wheat and rye marked up gains of a cent or more.

The trade was active in all markets with some of the early demand stimulated by the strength of stocks.

Commission house short covering and professional buying disclosed a shortage of offerings at the start but profit cashing developed on the bulge and some of the gains were lost.

Rye encountered heavy selling at prices about 2¼ cents above yesterday's low, and the market dropped back nearly a cent during the final hour. The offerings were credited to shorts who had covered on the way up and to local longs.

Wheat eased when rye turned down but the losses were small and the trade quiet. Some mill buying was reported and resting orders provided support.

Oats managed to hold fractional gains near the close but at one time dipped as much as a cent from the session's highs under aggressive selling by local traders.

Local Grain Receipts.

Local wheat receipts were 5 cars local and 47 through; corn, 58 local and 30 through; oats, 3 local; barley, 1 local and 1 through.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Feb. 28.—In the cash grain market today corn was steady to 4c higher on the sale of 15 cars.

CORN—No. 3 yellow, $1.16@1.16½; No. 4 yellow, $1.12¼@1.15¼; No. 5 yellow, $1.08¾@1.10.

RABBITS—First hand receivers paying $2.75@3 per dozen to shippers for No. 1 fresh killed.

COTTON UP 5 TO 30C A BALE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP).—Strength in outside markets and scarcity of offerings contributed to a steady tone in the cotton market. Covering operations in March and mill buying against textile awards accounted for most of the buying. Spot cotton markets were quiet.

Late afternoon prices were unchanged to 15 cents a bale higher, March 22.17, May 22.06, and July 21.77.

Futures closed 5 to 30 cents a bale higher.

Flashes of Life

Butter vs. Chocolate.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 28.—Nettled when his cousin boasted her father had been able to buy a two-pound box of chocolates as a gift for her mother, a Seattle banker's young son retorted: "Well, anyway, a week from next Wednesday we're going to get a pound of butter from our milkman."

Evils of Taxation.

PORTLAND, Ore.—Olier Ronning concentrated so hard on his income tax that it cost him an extra $58. Intently studying the tax form in a drug store, he failed to see a thief steal his wallet from the counter.

$15 for 3-Cent Stamp.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—A 3-cent stamp cost St. Joseph County $15 yesterday. The county commissioners, before selling an old safe, called in a locksmith to make certain it contained nothing valuable. The locksmith retrieved the stamp—and submitted a bill for $15.

Lloyd George Unchanged.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The condition of 82-year-old David Lloyd George was unchanged today, the eighth day since the first bulletin was issued announcing the gravity of his illness.

'Practically Yours' Now at Ambassador

"PRACTICALLY YOURS," billed as a movie story mixing comedy, romance and drama, opens today at the Ambassador Theater. Starred are Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert as a "naval hero and the girl he didn't leave behind." Supporting cast includes Robert Benchley as "a meddling Supreme Court judge," Gil Lamb as "an obnoxious civilian," and Cecil Kellaway, Tom Powers, Jane Frazee and Mikhail Rasumny. The screenplay is by Norman Krasna, and the movie was directed by Mitchell Leisen.

Companion film is "Double Exposure," a light comedy featuring Chester Morris as editor of a picture magazine and Nancy Kelly as Morris' star photographer.

"Here Come the Coeds," with Abbott and Costello, and Phil Spitalny and his All Girl Orchestra, opened yesterday at the Fox. Peggy Ryan, Martha O'Driscoll and June Vincent have featured parts. Abbott and Costello play assistant caretakers in a girls' college. Vivian Austin and Edward Norris are principal actors in "Night Club Girl," the supporting picture, the title of which indicates the subject matter.

The exploits of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi Minister of Propaganda, are told in "Enemy of Women," heading the program starting today at the St. Louis. Alfred Zeisler, a one-time director of the UFA picture studios in prewar Berlin, directs the picture. Paul Andor, former German star now a refugee in this country, plays the part of Goebbels. In the supporting cast are Donald Woods and Claudia Drake, Ralph Morgan, H. B. Warner, and Beryl Wallace. "A Wave, a Wac and a Marine," with Sally Eilers, Elyse Knox, and Richard Lane, and featuring Sid Tomack, remembered as an entertainer at Chase Hotel here, is the second film.

"Murder, My Sweet," Dick Powell and Claire Trevor, and "Sunday Dinner for a Soldier," Anne Baxter and John Hodiak, open today at the Missouri. "To Have and Have Not," Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, holds over at the Shubert. "Music for Millions," Margaret O'Brien, Jimmy Durante, and Jose Iturbi, holds over at Loew's. "The Thin Man Goes Home," William Powell and Myrna Loy, and "Leave It to Blondie," Penny Singleton, hold over at the Orpheum. "Fantasia," Mickey Mouse feature-length Technicolor cartoon with music, holds over at the Art Theater, 3143 Olive street.

HANGS SELF; NOTE, 'SO SORRY'

John S. Ross, 52 years old, a laborer, was found hanged last night at the home of his brother-in-law, Max Hahn, 1834 South Eleventh street. In a note he said: "Please forgive this Japanese act. I'm so sorry."

He lived at 717A Carroll street, and had obtained the use of Hahn's apartment yesterday morning for sleeping purposes.

Welles Rates Four Decisions At Yalta as Outstanding

that German aggression will not again curse the world in the years to come. Ift these decisions are fully implemented, and efficiently carried out, they offer a rock-bottom basis for the future security of the peoples of Europe.

The third great accomplishment was the decision reached concerning the future of Poland. In my judgment, except in one regard, the solution determined upon for the reconstitution of Poland offers the best hope which could be afforded that the Poland of the future will in fact become that "strong and independent" Poland to the creation of which the major powers are pledged. The prospective cession to the Soviet Union of the preponderantly Polish city of Lwow is highly debatable. It is to be hoped that when the eastern frontier of Poland is finally drawn some equitable solution of that controversial question may be found, with due recognition of the very practical reasons which make the Soviet Union determined to obtain a common frontier with Czechoslovakia.

The final accomplishment, and one for which President Roosevelt was primarily responsible, is the joint agreement of the three major powers to assist the liberated peoples of Europe in solving "by democratic means their pressing political and economic problems." The assurance is now offered that the United States will play a full and equal part in seeing to it that these promises to the peoples of the liberated countries are made good. There will now be no further shrinking on our side from assuming the responsibilities which are incumbent upon us.

On Roosevelt's Success.

By these achievements the President has succeeded in retaining, and even in increasing, popular support for the foreign policy to which his administration is committed. His announcement of the composition of the American delegation to the United Nations meeting at San Francisco has also reaffirmed his determination to avoid the political errors of his great predecessor, Woodrow Wilson. His course has brought home once again to public opinion in this country the practical truth that under our constitutional form of government no President can successfully attain his objectives in foreign policy, however lofty and however wise they may be, unless he is a successful politician as well as a statesman.

The President has given more than lip service to the principles of the Atlantic Charter. He has succeeded in giving life to them. He also has given his fellow citizens the assurance—an assurance which is necessarily the foundation upon which the future security of the United States must rest—that the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain are as determined to work together in the postwar years in order to build up a new, a better and a peaceful world as they are to fight together to achieve that victory without which no peaceful world can come into being.

PAINT FIRM TAX SALE PUT OFF TILL OPA SETS PRICES FOR IT

A public auction of the assets of Yengst-Brennan Inc., paint contractors, by deputy United States Internal Revenue Collectors, was postponed yesterday when a question was raised concerning the application of Office of Price Administration ceilings on the items to be sold in satisfaction of $10,126 in delinquent Federal taxes.

Bidders who arrived at the paint contracting firm, 4907 Easton avenue, to attend the sale, recalled the situation which arose several months ago when a trustee in Federal Bankruptcy Court sold an automobile over the OPA price and was forced to refund a portion of the sale price. Consultation between James P. Finnegan, Collector of Internal Revenue, and George L. Robertson, district OPA enforcement attorney, yesterday resulted in a decision that OPA prices must be observed in the Internal Revenue sale.

The sale will be next Tuesday and the OPA will furnish Finnegan's office with ceiling prices on the items, which include two trucks, paint stock, ladders and brushes. No bids will be accepted above the OPA ceilings.

MARINES PROTEST IN FORCE AGAINST IWO EDITORIAL

60 to 75 Gather Around Office of San Francisco Examiner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28 (AP).—A riot call last night sent police and Navy shore patrol squads to the San Francisco Examiner, where a group of 60 to 75 United States Marines were protesting against an editorial which said the Marine Corps is paying "perhaps too heavily" in casualties for Iwo.

One witness said the group demanded a retraction or right to answer the Examiner's proposal that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be put "in supreme command in the Pacific war" because "he saves the lives of his own men."

Marine, Navy and police officials reported there were no violence and no arrests. William Wren, managing editor of the Hearst newspaper, termed the riot call "utterly unnecessary."

A Navy spokesman said two of the marines were closeted with Wren, but the editor said "no comment" when asked about the nature of the talks.

"We had a very pleasant talk," he explained, "and everybody was satisfied."

STASSEN SAYS U. S. HAS ENDED ISOLATIONISM

Republican Party position at the San Francisco conference, the 38-year-old flag officer for Adm. Halsey replied:

"I would take it that it is elementary that the three delegates who are Republican were not selected by the party and do not have and would not have authority to speak for the party. But all three would make a maximum effort to be informed as to the position of the party and particularly the position of the titular head of the party, Gov. Dewey."

The other Republicans on the seven-member United States delegation are United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and Representative Charles Eaton of New Jersey.

Stassen said he did not approve United States Senator Joseph Ball's position in the 1944 presidential campaign. Ball supported President Roosevelt on the ground he favored the President's position on international affairs more than he did Dewey's.

"Will you be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948?" a reporter asked Stassen in Dewey's presence.

"I'll ask you to ask me that after the war is over," the Minnesotan replied.

Stassen and his wife left here for Boston to visit friends.

COLONEL'S HOME BUILT OF SCRAP INTRIGUES PYLE

makes his own commanding officer take off his shoes when he comes to visit. He furnishes his guests extra socks in case their feet get cold, which of course they don't.

The house is built on stilts, and sits admidst laurel and other green shrubbery, wildly native, only 50 feet from the sea. You come down the slope to it over a path cut out of the laurel, and once in the house you are utterly away from everything.

Before you is only the curve of the lagoon, and the pounding of incessant rollers on the reef a hundred yards out, and the white clouds in the far blue sky. Several times a day sudden tropical showers drench and cool the place.

It's on Col. Griffith's porch that I'm writing these columns. My only excuse from them not being better columns is that I can't seem to keep away from that low deck chair at the far end of the porch. And also I keep looking up the path to see if Sadie Thompson isn't strolling down with her umbrella.

would be presented to the other delegations.

Meeting Put Off.

The meeting of the commission which was to pass on the Declaration of Chapultepec this morning has been put off until tomorrow, which would give United States delegates a chance to confer with the Latins.

The United States already had obtained one 24-hour delay in the vote on the Declaration of Chapultepec just as the plan was about to pass by acclamation.

Points of the "Declaration of Chapultepec" follow:

"All sovereign states are juridically equal, among themselves.

"Every state has the right to be respected by other members of the international community in its personality and independence.

"Any attempt of a state against the integrity or the inviolability of territory, against the sovereignty or political independence of an American state, will be considered as an act of aggression against the states which sign this declaration.

"In the case of acts of aggression, or that there are reasons to believe that an act of aggression is being prepared by any state against the integrity or inviolability of territory, against the sovereignty or political independence of an American state, signatory states to this declaration will consult among themselves to concert on the matters to be taken.

Use of Force.

"If an act of aggression or menace of aggression as foreseen in this declaration should occur, the signatory states will resolve jointly on the measures to be applied against the aggressor state, adopting, according to the circumstances, one or several of the following: Withdrawal of chiefs of diplomatic missions; rupture of diplomatic relations; rupture of consular relations; rupture of postal-telegraphic, telephone and radio-telephone relations; interruption of economic, commercial and financial relations; use of military forces to repel the aggression.

"The signatory states are obliged to sustain by all measures, including their arms, the territorial integrity and the political independence of all and each of them, once an absolute majority of the American states has thus agreed.

"When the aggression consists in invasion by the armed forces of one state into the territory of another, crossing established frontiers, or when there is a sure threat of invasion, immediate action is obligatory against the aggressor or presumed aggressor by the other American states.

"When an international security organization is established, application of compulsory sanctions will be put into effect by the American states in harmony with norms of the statute of that organization."

Meanwhile, it was learned, the subcommittee working on the United States, Mexican and other proposals for strengthening the inter-American system is now developing a formula for final conference acceptance.

This plan would empower the governing board of the Pan-American union to draft a treaty for revising the inter-American structure. The treaty would be taken up for final action at Bogoea.

Military Co-ordination.

The Commission on the War Effort approved a Mexican proposal to set up a permanent inter-American military organization with representatives of each nation's general staff. This would provide for constant exchange of information on the defense of the Americas.

The commission adopted a Mexican resolution asking for governmental control and regulation of armaments production in the hemisphere.

Secretary of State Stettinius said "it is definitely not the purpose of the American republics to form a bloc to go to the United Nations conference in San Francisco."

At a conference with reporters from most of the countries represented here, Stettinius said he had already found "noteworthy and gratifying progress" on major topics under discussion.

He listed three subjects that have developed "to a point worthy of special comment," and expressed optimism that the conference would reach easy agreement on them:

1. The United States program to help stabilize American economies. "It represents," he said, "our mature conclusion as to practical methods of advancing the economic development of the American republics to the mutual benefit of all our peoples."

2. Strengthening of the inter-American system.

3. Effective insulation of the western hemisphere "against any possibility of Axis infiltration or subversive efforts." Stettinius said resolutions on this point have "good prospects of approval."

MRS. W. W. HENDERSON FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa McCausland Henderson, widow of William W. Henderson, former St. Louis probate judge, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the chapel of St. John's Methodist Church, 5000 Washington boulevard, with burial in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mrs. Henderson, 74 years old, died yesterday of heart disease at St. Mary's Hospital. She was a granddaughter of Ralph Clayton, donor of the site of the St. Louis County courthouse, after whom the county seat is named. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Pavesich of Elkridge, Md., and a son, James A. Henderson, of Bridgeton, an attorney.

360 Aleuts to Be Repatriated.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Feb. 28 (AP).—Three hundred sixty Aleut natives will be homeward bound within a few weeks to the barren islands from which they were evacuated when the Japanese invaded the Aleutians in the summer of 1942. They don't like Alaska because it hase "too many trees."

UNION COMMITTEES SEEK TO END SHOE PLANT STRIKE

Union committees met today in an attempt to reach an equitable solution that would end the wildcat strike at two sole leather plants of the International Shoe Co. involving more than 900 employes.

A special meeting has been called for 8 o'clock tonight of CIO United Shoe Workers of America, Local 56-A, at Gambrinus Hall, 3631 Salena street. Frank McGrath, international union president, has been summoned from Washington to address the meeting in an effort to get the strikers back to work.

The walkout began Monday over the transfer of five women workers at one plant to other operations to make way for the employment of five Negro women, previously agreed to by the company and the union and approved at a mass meeting of the local. It spread to the second plant yesterday. The tieup threatens to halt military production schedules unless terminated. Plants involved are at Broadway and Cherokee street and 2001 Hickory street.

SOLOMONS' VETERAN NOW A CARRIER PILOT

Capt. W. J. Bedford Says He Can't Find as Many Japs in the South China Sea Area.

Capt. William J. Bedford, former St. Louisan, now a Marine fighter pilot operating off a carrier in the South China Sea, finds that his present duty differs materially from land-based fighting of the type he experienced in the Solomons, according to a task force dispatch.

"There used to be enough Japs to go around down in the Pacific. Out here we have to collect them one-half at a time," he said, after returning from an interception mission on which he and his wingman had shot down one plane between them. He was awarded the Air Medal with Gold Star for shooting down three planes in the Solomons. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bedford, 5939 Plymouth avenue.

Bomber Hit 77 Times.

Lt. Harry F. Ganahl, 28-year-old bombardier, on his way home for a rest after completing 44 missions in the Southwest Pacific, regards as his narrowest escape the mission on which his bomber collected 77 bullet holes, a Fifth Air Force dispatch said.

The mission involved a photo reconnaissance trip, in which six Liberators participated, deep into the enemy's island empire to photograph air fields. In an hour-long running battle, three enemy fighters were knocked out of the sky by the heavy bombers. Lt. Ganahl is the son of Mrs. August Ganahl, 7716 Gissler avenue, Richmond Heights. He wears the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Five From This Area in Alps.

Five men from the St. Louis area are members of a field artillery battalion stationed high in the French Alps along the Franco-Italian border, a dispatch from the Sixth Army Group in France announced.

They are: Vincent Cali, 5821 West Park avenue; Nelson W. Lambeth, 1093 Ferguson avenue, University City; George T. Grasle, 1923 South Ninth street; Joseph H. Walsh, 1855 Menard street, and Clarence A. Rauscher of Glencoe. Now attached to an airborne task force, the battalion saw service during the advance on Cassino, the march on Rome and the invasion of southern France.

Unit Befriended by Children.

Staff Sgt. Joe D. Harper, a former service station manager from St. Louis, is now a member of a Ninth Air Force Service Command unit which temporarily occupied a Catholic grammar school in Belgium recently, a Ninth Air Force dispatch related.

The school children, anxious to make friends, brought some item from home to each of the soldiers and received in return candy and gifts. In a short time, each soldier had a tiny comrade waiting for him every time he left the building. To show their appreciation, the unit, when it moved on, left the building in exactly the same condition in which it had been turned over to them, including the lessons written on the blackboard. Sgt. Harper is the brother of Eugene Harper with whom he lived at 1015 Bates street.

Waterboy Under Fire.

Sgt. Wilbur Triplett was high scorer in a grim game of tag played by three doughboys to see who would go for water for the trio, a dispatch from the 103rd Division of the Seventh Army announced.

In a foxhole fight with Germans were Triplett, Sgt. John Rudolph, River Rouge, Mich., and Pfc. Floyd Harris of Albany, Mo. They had run out of water and could see a tempting stream 75 yards downhill in front of them. The two sergeants were tempted to pull their rank on Harris but decided instead that the last man to kill a German would go for the water. Triplett scored first and then Rudolph. Low man Harris dashed down to the stream under the covering fire of the two sergeants and came back safely with three full canteens.

Sgt. Triplett is the nephew of Mrs. Bessie Harman, 4818 Cote Brilliante avenue, and the son of Mrs. Mary Triplett of Carlinville, Ill.

In Signal Corps in Italy.

Six former residents of the St. Louis area are member of two Signal Corps units attached to Allied Force Headquarters in Italy, a recent dispatch from that theater announced. Helping to install, maintain and operate wire communications of the headquarters are: Cpl. Dietsch, 755 North Woodlawn avenue, Kirkwood; Cpl. John A. Scholten, 3005 Calvert avenue, Overland; Cpl. Hilary J. Witmer, 4252 Clayton avenue, and Sgt. Carl R. Holst, 5696 Kingsbury avenue.

Among those who procure, store, issue and repair signal property used by headquarters are Staff Sgt. Lester F. Hoffman, 3714 Neona avenue, Northwoods, and Sgt. Walter J. Davis, 5317 Labadie avenue.

PROPOSAL TO BLOCK SENATE FILIBUSTERS THAT HOLD UP PACTS

Suggested Change in Rules Would Allow Majority to Invoke Cloture.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Senators Pepper (Dem.), Florida, and Fulbright (Dem.), Arkansas, proposed today that the Senate modify a seldom-invoked rule to permit a majority to force a showdown vote on a treaty.

Pepper disclosed that in conjunction with Fulbright and several other Senators he has drafted a resolution calling for revision of the cloture rule by which two-thirds of the chamber can limit debate.

"We are not asking that this change apply to domestic legislation, but only to treaties and agreements with other nations," the Florida Senator told a reporter. "When anything of the importance of a treaty is involved, I think that a majority of the Senate should be allowed to obtain a vote without endless talk."

Pepper said the resolution does not suggest any change in the constitutional requirement for a two-thirds vote to ratify a treaty.

A change in rules can be accomplished by a majority vote of the Senate, without House action.

The point, the Senator said, is to prevent a filibuster from delaying action on a treaty such as the one expected to be submitted after the security conference in San Francisco.

Several Southern Democrats who favor establishment of an international peace-keeping organization have said they never would vote for cloture. They fear that a similar debate limitation might be applied to such controversial measures as anti-poll tax or anti-lynching bills.

WAR CRIMES COMMISSION APPROPRIATIONS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP).—A State Department request for $25,000 to provide full American participation in the United Nations War Crimes Commission was approved yesterday by the House Appropriations Committee. The money would allow the United States to return a civilian to the commission.

Late last year the committee rejected a $30,000 request for salary and expenses for Herbert C. Pell, member of the commission, and his staff over a six-month period.

Startling to See Grown-Up Shirley

By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27.

THERE I was on the set of "Kiss and Tell" looking at Shirley Temple being made love to by a tall soldier, Jerome Courtland, and I was a little taken back. I know that Shirley is a big girl now: she has been well publicized, and I have seen her grown-up on the screen in several roles. But I was still startled, for here I was seeing her being made love to in person, and I remember Shirley as a baby.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

Yes, I go back with Shirley. I remember a day at the Fox Studios when Lew Brown said to me, "I just found a kid that's going to be great. Come down to the stage with me and take a look at her." Brown didn't even remember her name. It was the day he had selected her, from a number of youngsters, for a role in "Stand Up and Cheer." What's more, she turned out to be great, a gold mine, and to be perfectly honest about it, I couldn't understand why Brown was doing all the cheering. Which should give you an idea of what kind of a talent scout I am.

Shirley Temple became the world's favorite, America's new sweetheart, and Shirley and I became friendly. In fact, Shirley and I became very friendly; I watched her make every picture, even took her to the movies, and on one occasion when she became a little precocious, I put her across my lap and spanked her.

MAYBE THAT'S WHY I was startled to see a big guy making love to her, a kid I had put across my lap.

"I couldn't do that to you now," I said to Shirley, after she had completed the scene. She smiled, and that smile with those dimples, well, Shirley has certainly blossomed into a lovely young lady. And I venture to say that teen-age America will fall in love with her again when they catch her in this picture.

"Do you know Van Johnson?" she asked me.

I said, "I do."

"That's for me," she said. "I go for him, but def."

Shirley Temple went back to work, and as I watched her I thought: My goodness, how many columns I have written since Shirley Temple was America's doll friend. Day in, day out, week in, week out, months, years. All those columns. I got tired just thinking of them. Why, I'll bet if they were stacked one on top of the other they would be taller than Shirley Temple, the bobby socker.

WHILE WE'RE in the kiddie department, there was quite a scene on the set of "Yolanda and The Thief" the other day. Alfredo Nunez, aged 3, was in a sequence with Fred Astaire and Lucille Bremer. Alfredo is cute with a very expressive face, and whenever the camera focused on him, Alfredo was called on to laugh and laugh. When he did, so did everyone on the set. Everyone said, "Isn't he the cutest thing!" That's how it is when a kiddie works in a picture.

Then came a scene in which Alfredo was to cry just as Astaire picks him up, but Alfredo just laughed. Director Vincent Minnelli even pricked a balloon in front of him, believing that the unexpected noise would make Alfredo cry. Not Alfredo, he just laughed.

Rather desperate, Director Minnelli turned to Alfredo's mother and explained that now he wanted Alfredo to cry.

"Well, just tell him that yourself," said Mrs. Nunez.

DIRECTOR MINNELLI looked at her dubiously and did as she suggested and Alfredo cried and cried.

After the scene was filmed, Lucile and Astaire got a doll from the prop department, pinned a card to it which said "Oscarito" and presented it to Alfredo.

Alfredo looked at the doll and then at Minnelli —and laughed and laughed and laughed.

Connie Weiler, one of the girls in "Yolanda and The Thief" says she calls the picture, "Yolanda—Where She Danced."

But anyway, I wanted to tell you about Alfredo Nunez, for who can tell, he's likely to be the Van Johnson of tomorrow, and it might be of some value to me—for I could go on that radio programe and say, "I Was There!"

PRIESTS, REFUGEES MURDERED BY JAPS

Some of the bodies of 60 Christian Brothers and women and children refugees murdered by the Japanese at De La Salle College in Manila lie on the floor of the chapel, where they were found by American troops Feb. 18. A survivor said the victims, who had sought refuge at the college, were shot and bayoneted six days before.

The Record Makers

By Charles Menees

TWO of today's trumpet greats—Harry James and Roy Eldridge—appear with their bands on a pair of new records which are in sharp contrast with one another. The James disc (Columbia) is a typical commercial presentation of two ballads, "Guess I'll Hang My Tears Out to Dry" and "I Don't Care Who Knows It." Kitty Kallen sings both numbers—and well. James, of course, solos on both sides and Altoist Willie Smith squeezes in a solo on "I Don't Care Who Knows It." The Eldridge platter is the first of a new Decca series dealing with a purer jazz. On "Twilight Time," Roy's horn predominates masterfully. Reverse, a dynamic original called "Fish Market," showcases muted and piercing open-horn work by Roy, good guitar bars by someone called Snaggs, alto solo by Joe Eldridge and a wild-toned trombone passage by Sandy Williams. Eldridge's pick-up band cut these sides and also "St. Louis Blues" before he joined the Artie Shaw crew. Other widely-known jazz men on these sides are Sidney de Paris, trumpet; Vic Dickenson, trombone; Cozy Cole, drums.

ANDRES SEGOVIA, outstanding Spanish guitarist, displays his musical talents in a new Decca album of three 12-inch records, playing compositions of two of Spain's great composers, Isaac Albeniz and Enrique Granados. This is classical music. Orson Welles makes his Decca debut on a 12-inch record with a reading of "The Song of Songs (Which is Solomon's)." Welles employs his typical dramatics. A new Victor single has the Phil Moore Four a bit off form on "My Dreams Are Getting Better All the Time" and "A Little on the Lonely Side." First tune is in big demand, has also been waxed by Les Brown. Another Victor disc has Erskine Hawkins and band doing "Remember" and "Tippin' In," neither of them too impressive.

NEEDLEPOINT: Decca has much-discussed Eddie Condon and orchestra, including such jazz stars as Bobby Hackett, Max Kaminsky, Jack Teagarden and Bobby Haggart and Singer Lee Wiley coming up with two sides. . . . The Goodman Quintet has cut "After You've Gone" and "Body and Soul" for Columbia. . . . Same firm is working on a "Count Basie Presents" album which will have Goodman, James, Krupa and Sinatra guest soloing with a small combination from the Basie band. . . . Woody Herman's first Columbia platter, due in mid-March, features a new tune called "Laura." . . Hal McIntyre, switched this time from Bluebird to the Victor label, is on the way with "Sentimental Journey." . . . Report is that Billy Eckstine's great jump band will record for Capitol.

Preparing the Gardener

By Christopher Billopp

In planning a victory garden much is heard about preparing the soil. But nothing is said about preparing the gardener.

In most instances the gardener is more in need of building up than the soil. That is because he has been lying idle all winter except when there has been snow to shovel or furniture to move.

The very finest seed and a rich loam well fertilized will be of little value if, on the first fine day of spring, the unprepared gardener sets to work and almost immediately strains his back.

Or, later in the season, when string beans are weighing the bushes down and the pressure cooker is ready with a housewife in attendance who has called off all social engagements and is resigned to sacrificing her hair-do, picture the disappointment caused by the gardener developing gardener's knee before he has picked half a row.

But even if these disasters are avoided, valuable time is wasted daily by the unprepared gardener who is short of wind and has to pause every few minutes to puff and blow.

Nobody would think of sending a race horse to the barrier without preliminary training, nor a football player into a game without days of practice. Yet most victory gardeners imagine they can get up out of an armchair where they have spent most of the winter and jump right into gardening.

Even if it is still winter, it is high time the victory gardener was beginning to prepare himself, if only by getting out of the armchair and into a straight-backed one, or loosening his back by picking things up off the floor.

From that modest start he can then work himself up to the supreme test of taking strenuous exercise in a temperature of 90 degrees and seeing how long he can rest on one knee before falling from exhaustion or crying out in pain.

My Day -o-

By Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday.

YESTERDAY the second buffet lunch was held here and the penal on the Dumbarton Oaks proposals were again presented under Mrs. Charles Tillett's auspices. All the women taking part yesterday—Mrs. Irving Berlin, Mrs. Raymond Clapper, the Hon. Emily Taft Douglas and Mrs. Joseph Lash—did an excellent piece of work.

Mrs. Tillett had succeeded in getting them all together and shortening the time which the whole explanation took, and after they had finished speaking there were a number of questions which I think clarified in many people's minds certain points at issue.

One of the things which I think should be emphasized is the fact that these are proposals on broad agreements. They may be changed. They do not enter into the procedure which shall be followed within each nation on the method of choosing delegates or the members of committees. These details will be settled by the nations themselves, and do not need agreement from other nations.

AT 4 O'CLOCK I stopped in for a few minutes at the tea given by the ladies' auxiliary of the Jewish Consumptive Relief Society of Denver. I returned to the White House in time to hold a conference with the newly-elected officers of my press conference association.

In the evening I went out to American University, where a small group of Navy Department civilian employes—about 34 girls from 22 states, ranging in age from 18 to 40—are working on a college course. They do a full day's work, six days a week, and then they do seven hours of college work in the evenings. They live at American University in one of the buildings formerly occupied by boys who have gone off to the war.

PRESIDENT DOUGLAS of American University told me that their grades were remarkably high. I gather that most of them would have found it difficult to go to college under other circumstances, and they feel this is a great opportunity to do something for the war and still acquire a college education. It will take them six years to get a degree; but should their war work terminate before that, they could probably finish their course in a much shorter period by devoting all of their time to it

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

THE following recipe will enable you to turn out cookies that appear and taste as good as they are in food value. They have that pebbly chopped crunchy peanut crust all over and are tender, tasty and fruity on the inside. As an accompaniment to simple fruit desserts or plain ice cream or to have ready for the children to snatch for after school snacks, or to tuck into lunch boxes, they are hard to beat. When storing them, do not put into a container where there is any other kind of cookie. Peanuts absorb flavors and when they do, they are never so good as when they just stand alone on their own natural flavor. It is good practice to wrap each cookie in waxed paper when they are put in the lunch box.

Oatmeal-Peanut Cookie.

One and one-half cups sifted all-purpose flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, six tablespoons granulated sugar, six tablespoons brown sugar, one teaspoon lemon rind, one-half cup shortening, one and one-half cups oatmeal, one-half cup raisins, one-fourth cup hot water, one egg, beaten, one cup finely chopped peanuts.

Sift together flour, salt, soda, cinnamon and sugar. Add lemon rind. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add oatmeal and raisins. Add hot water slowly to beaten egg; add to dry ingredients, mixing well. Shape into small balls, roll in chopped peanuts and place on greased cookie sheet. Flatten cookie down with a glass. Bake in a 375 degrees Fahrenheit oven for 15 minutes. Yield: seven dozen.

Breakfast: Stewed apricots and prunes; French toast; strawberry jam.

Luncheon: Cream of corn soup; cottage cheese, chopped water cress and sliced tomato on whole wheat bread; leftover prune nut cake.

Dinner: Pork hocks and sauerkraut; lyonnaise potatoes; rutabaga and apple; stewed tomatoes; rye bread; oatmeal-peanut cookies.

Rutabaga and Apple.

By cooking rutabaga with a little apple, seasoning with lemon juice and utilizing the thickened juice to make an attractive glaze, this dish is different and delicious. Peel one small rutabaga (one pound) and cut in one-fourth-inch slices. Simmer in one cup hot water with one teaspoon salt, covered for five minutes. Arrange one large, tart apple, cut in unpeeled slices, on top of rutabaga; add two tablespoons sugar and two teaspoons lemon juice. Cover and simmer for 10 more minutes, or until vegetable and fruit slices are tender, but not mushy. Thicken the sauce with two teaspoons cornstarch, mixed with a little cold water.

FIRM AND TWO STORE OWNERS ACCUSED IN SUITS BY OPA

The B. & M. Manufacturing Co., 4429 Manchester avenue, was charged by the Office of Price Administration with violating price ceilings on toys in a suit filed today in United States District Court. Alleging overcharges of as much as $2.91 per set on juvenile table and chair outfits, the petition asked treble damages in the amount of $10,411 and a permanent injunction against future violations.

Kenneth A. Brueggermann, who operates a market at 226 North Euclid avenue, was charged in another suit with issuing ration checks to St. Louis wholesalers for meats and fats when his ration bank account was overdrawn. The OPA asked an injunction against further purchases of meats, fats, fish and cheese until Brueggermann complies with ration orders.

Hyman Lake, doing business as the Hyman Lake Confectionery, 5356 Natural Bridge avenue, was charged with selling popular brands of cigarettes at 24 cents per package, an increase of 6 cents over the ceiling price. The petition filed asked an injunction restraining further violations.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

MY husband and I have been married several months. There is a woman in the neighborhood who seems to be trying to break up our marriage. My husband is 36 and I am 32. This neighbor woman is in her forties. She takes every possible opportunity to come to our house when she knows my husband is home, but when I am there alone she never stops by. There are all kinds of other things she does to attract his attention, or be with him, and she runs after him in many ways. He tells me the things she does, but it seems as if he doesn't know how to make her stop. Do you think it would help if I met her somewhere away from both our homes and told her what's what and that she should keep away from my husband? I love him very much but this woman and her ways are driving me crazy. I'm going to have to leave him if it keeps up. What shall I do? MAE.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

It could be that this older woman is just a neighborly soul who likes to drop in and pass the time of day. It may be quite accidental that she feels prompted to do so when your husband is there and never when you are alone. Don't allow your jealousy to get the better of your good judgment to the point of accosting the woman with accusations of which you have no proof. There is a lack of dignity in this, as well as danger of alienating an otherwise friendly neighbor. If she bothers you with too-frequent visits, be less cordial when she calls, or you and your husband be about to leave the house on some pretext when she arrives. If you suspect the woman is really trying to beak up your marriage with her tactics, why give her the satisfaction of allowing her to do so? Refuse to take the matter so seriously, she will wear down in time.

Dear Martha Carr:

SINCE LAST MAY I have been engaged to a middle-aged woman who has a mother age 80. She runs her mother's business, of which she has full responsibility of late years. The mother hates men, so my fiancee tells me we must keep our engagement secret. When we go out together she is always worried for fear that someone she knows may see us and carry the word back to her mother. I am middle-aged and a bachelor. My fiancee has been twice married. She tells me we cannot marry until her mother, who is a very healthy woman, dies. Do you advise that I continue my engagement?

L. W. S.

One can scarcely blame a mother for objecting when a daughter has already had two husbands and is about to take another. Rather than hating men this mother may merely doubt her daughter's judgment, fear for another unfortunate marriage and further unhappiness for the woman. I can't see much sense to two middle-aged people having the sort of relationship you describe. It sounds like a secret sort of thing, almost savoring of the illicit, what with scooting down dark streets, crossing over, and what not, to avoid meeting mother's friends. You would be wise, it seems to me, to tell your fiancee you want an engagement open and above board, and a date set for the wedding in the near future. If she will not agree to this, won't broach her mother on the subject or brave her displeasure, then you would be happier, I should think, if you will break the engagement and stop seeing her entirely. Certainly by her age she should be able to make her own decisions and live and act like an adult.

IN ANSWER TO "Mrs. F. M.": Material on chicken-raising, weeds, etc, can be secured from the Government. The United States Department of Agriculture puts out excellent pamphlets on all such subjects. I suggest you go to the Applied Science Department of the Library first and determine through their indexes just what you want before writing for anything however.

IN ANSWER TO "Susie Q": You should obey your father by all means. But if the club has only the wholesome activities you mention and all your friends go there, then perhaps the parents of one of your friends could talk your dad over into allowing you the same privilege. Or maybe he could drop into the Teen-Town some night and see for himself just what goes on.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

DON'T expect your friends to be mind readers, because if you do, it is likely that they will unknowingly let you down; which is what happened to the writer of this letter. "We invited friends to Sunday dinner at midday. We expected them to remain with us the rest of the day, but at about 4 o'clock they said they had to leave; each having made another engagement. Doesn't an invitation to dinner, particularly on a Sunday, imply for the rest of the day?"

For all I know it may in friendly communities. But in formal communities, an hour after leaving the dinner table is as long as anyone is expected to stay, unless especially invited to spend the afternoon.

DEAR MRS. POST: Please answer the following two questions: (1) Which should it be—a man take a woman's arm or she take his? (2) When shaking hands with a glove on, is it proper to say "Excuse my glove?"

Answer: (1) A man should offer a woman his arm. (2) When a man has on a street glove and he can't pull it off, he says, "Excuse my glove." If wearing an indoor glove at a wedding or a ball, for example, he keeps it on and says nothing. A woman never says it. In fact, on very formal occasions she puts on gloves to shake hands.

DEAR MRS. POST: In a book which is to be kept as a record for a child, shouldn't the family tree be filled in with the name of the child's step great-grandmother who has for two generations long been the center of the family? The great-grandfather's first wife died when her children were too little to remember her. The family want his present wife's name but are told it is not proper in a family tree. One of our children also is named for her—if this makes a difference.

Answer: It is true that great-grandfather's first wife must be shown in the family tree to be the mother of the children, but it is entirely proper—in fact, necessary—that great-grandfather's second name be included with his own. Moreover, the fact that one of the children has been named for her, certainly shows a tie of love as plainly as that of blood.

Goodness Is Challenge to An Individual

By Elsie Robinson

I DOUBT if we've ever devoted as much newsprint space to the subject of sin as we have lately. Mostly we concentrate on this sad business of juvenile delinquency. And in all too many cases, get exactly nowhere. Why? Frankly I suspect that while we rave against the sinner we spend far too little time studying the nature of sin. And why people go for it in such a big way.

Most respectable citizens assume that sinners are just naturally born bad and prefer wickedness to righteousness just to be ornery. But that isn't true. There's quite a bit to be said for sin and some very sound reasons why otherwise normal human beings think it's a good bet.

First off, sin's exciting and the average red blooded human being dotes on excitment. Kids especially.

THEN, SIN'S a change. Something new and different from the drab monotony of a righteous life. Goodness needn't be monotonous and drab. It might be and it should be as pleasant and thrilling an adventure as crime. But by the time most folks get through with goodness it's a sorry mess. They've taken all the thrill out of it—all the gallant adventure. It has become merely a cautious technique for crybabies and cowards. Something to keep you out of jail.

Yet human nature persists in being inquisitive, in longing to follow forbidden trails. Why do so many ultra respectable, triple chinned pillars of society rush to see the latest risque movie or air their varicose veins at some naughty night club? That's why. Because that's the nearest they can come to the risk of excitement which is their normal need.

Your average citizen is not a natural or comfortable sinner. Nothing could induce him to commit such public capers himself. But he's intrigued by the gilt and glamour which seem to go with mischief. And he's bored by the dullness of his conventional, law abiding world. So he gets it out of his system by a little vicarious hell raisin'.

WHY'S SIN? Why's a sinner? There's the reason. It's not because sin in itself is so desirable. It's because we've taken the comeon out of goodness.

Actually goodness can be scads of fun. It's the greatest and toughest challenge we human being can ever meet. It should come to us dressed in shining armor and streaming banners. It should come to youth especially like a trumpet calling. But does it?

Ask yourself that when you face some sullen young delinquent. Don't look at him first—look at his background. Look at the dingy camping place he calls home and the glittering, laughing, song filled rendezevous which sin offers in contrast.

If that's all we can give him in the name of goodness, why shouldn't he be bad? Make goodness the brave and joyous venture it is meant to be and he'll choose it every time.

Climbs to Top in Fashion Field

Hope Skillman, One-Time St. Louis Debutante, Heads Big Business

By Sylvia Stiles

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.

TO many St. Louisans, the name Hope Skillman brings to mind a diminutive debutante in a frilly ball gown, but in fashion circles from New York to California it is a name that signifies original cottons and quality designs.

It was in the fall of 1927 that little Hope Skillman made her debut in St. Louis. At that time her father, Frederick Skillman, was managing director of Hotel Chase and the Skillman family was widely known in the city's social circles. No one thought then that this blond-haired girl had serious thought in her pretty head. In fact to see her now it is easy to understand why she had difficulty in making the fabric market take her seriously.

"Let the little girl have her fun," said some of the success boys when she started her own business as a fabric converter. "She can't run a business and look like that."

But Hope Skillman proved to the doubters that she could run a business into big volume and that top-notch dress designers would be clamoring for a chance to sign her up to design fabrics for them exclusively. Labels bearing her name appear on dresses created by such well-known designers as Claire McCardell, Pauline Trigere, Josette Walker, Adele Simpson and Foxbrownie. One St. Louis manufacturer of junior dresses, Minx Modes, is proud to list some Skillman fabrics exclusively in its collections.

Less than two years ago Hope Skillman opened her own business to make, design and sell fine fabrics. In this short space of time she has gained national recognition as one of the country's foremost designers and promoters of fine high-styled cottons and other quality fabrics. The fact that she has doubled her office space and her accounts are mounting by the dozens offer sufficient proof that this young woman is an important factor in the fabric field.

Located in an impressive office building at 1450 Broadway "Skillmill, Incorporated" is the important-sounding name of the Hope Skillman company. It is strictly a feminine organization, too, with all of the jobs on the staff held by women. The artistry which has been injected into this young woman's work is reflected in her offices. They present such a refreshing color scheme and unique arrangement that a national home furnishings magazine featured them in a recent issue. Focal point of interest in the reception room is a mural by the designer's husband, Saul Schary, which tells the romantic story of the textile business.

HOPE SKILLMAN . . . IN FASHION CIRCLES HER NAME SIGNIFIES ORIGINAL COTTONS AND QUALITY DESIGNS.

To anyone uninitiated into the intricacies of getting ahead in the fabric business, the rise of Hope Skillman may not seem so remarkable. It may look like the story of any ambitious young woman with talent and a will to work. To realize what she has achieved, one needs to know that the fabric business is one which, through the years, has been reluctant to give women places of importance. To find the name of a woman listed among fabric converters is unusual, and to find the name of one at the top of the list causes all eyes in the fashion world to turn in her direction.

A "converter," by the way, is one who takes the gray goods from the mills through the entire process until it becomes a finished fabric ready to be cut and used. It involves much technical knowledge as well as talent in the creation of outstanding designs and textures. Not satisfied to be a converter of the usual type of cottons, Miss Skillman has from the beginning concerned herself only with high styled types. Typical of her creations are satin-striped cottons with which she has won much acclaim. Gay flowered prints, subtly blended pastel ginghams, bold tri-color broadcloths and many other striking themes are among those she features. She usually has a certain dress designer in mind when she makes a fabric so she endeavors to create the type which suits that particular designer's style. Claire McCardell, for example, uses sturdy, boyish cottons effectively while Adele Simpson stresses dressmaker themes.

Cottons are this converter's primary interest although she has some rayons in her collection. Because cottons are a native fiber and certainly a native industry, Hope Skillman is particularly interested in promoting and working with them. Certain prejudices against cottons in high-style circles have made them difficult to promote but the shortages of other materials, especially silk, has been an advantage.

"Cotton suffers because it is so durable," explained Miss Skillman. "Then there are two other prejudices which have to be broken down. One is the belief that cottons won't sell if they seem expensive. The other is an old belief that cottons are merely for summer wear."

To break down the first Miss Skillman has devoted expert skill in the creation of fine prints and novelty textures so that they are as beautiful as silk fabrics. To prove that cottons can be wearable the year round she has sprung many surprises including her Victorian sofa stripes and her tartan clan plaids.

St. Louisans who knew Hope Skillman as a frivolous debutante undoubtedly wonder what background other than good looks and a winning personality she had for her present success. Before delving into fabrics this former St. Louis girl got herself a college education and traveled in Europe. Then she decided it was time to go on a self-sustaining basis. She wanted to live in New York rather than Chicago, where the family moved from St. Louis, so started looking for a job. The most promising offer came from an art magazine and, as she admits, she had more nerve than information to attempt the assignment of an art critic. Whether she succeeded with her first job doesn't seem to matter, because something more important happened. She met Saul Schary, one of a leading group of American artists, whom she later married.

From this position with the art magazine Miss Skillman went into the textile industry, where she learned the business. Her first position was obtained "because she looked and acted like a lady and knew nothing about cottons." A fresh viewpoint was needed in launching a "Come-Out-of-the-Kitchen" campaign for cottons. This position was followed by one as a department head in a well-known cotton concern. Miss Skillman was the only woman in charge of a department in the company. She remained there for eight years, leaving it to get a year's experience with a dress manufacturer before starting her own business.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

SOUTH'S bidding in today's deal was too bold, but if he had played the hand to the best advantage, the good position of cards would have rewarded him handsomely.

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ 10 4 2 ♥ A 6 5 ♦ K 8 7 6 5 2 ♣ A
♠ Q 7 ♥ J 9 4 3 ♦ A J 3 ♣ Q J 9 5	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠ K 9 8 6 3 ♥ Q 7 2 ♦ Q 9 ♣ 6 4 2
	♠ A J 5 ♥ K 10 8 ♦ 10 4 ♣ K 10 3 7 3

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the club queen, knocking out the blank ace. Now, in a frantic effort to lead toward the diamond king rather than away from that card, declarer led a low heart to the king and returned the diamond ten. West ducked and the king won—but just what good this did declarer is hard to see! On a second diamond lead, East won and returned a club. To make a long story short, declarer came out with exactly three club tricks, one spade, one diamond and two hearts, thus paying a 200-point penalty.

The correct way to play this hand was to lead a diamond from the dummy at the second trick! The establishment of the diamond suit was hopeless unless the ace lay singly or doubly guarded in front of the king, but there was certainly no reason why the first lead in the suit had to be toward the king rather than away from it. Declarer could not afford to take out one of his own high cards in hearts or spades to reach his own hand, nor could he afford to take out any entries from dummy. Note the effect of a low diamond lead from dummy. No matter whether East or West won, declarer would control the return, whether a spade, a club or a heart, then would lead his remaining diamond toward the king. Now, whether West took the ace at this trick or later, the entire diamond suit would come home.

It might repay my readers to study this deal as a type involving a rather difficult establishment play.

WHAT TO EXPECT TOMORROW

Sun in Pisces.

General Tendencies—The moon will still be in Libra all during today, and will emphasize everything having to do with entertainment, visiting, correspondence and quick motions to and fro. The daylight interval seems more pleasureable than the evening, but the latter is very good for discussion and news. Plans can also be made for the favorable date which is tomorrow.

If Tomorrow Is Your Birthday.

The year 1945 should bring you many activities, but with a pleasanter feeling evident that was the case in 1944. Your business matters will improve, but your chief source of enjoyment seems to be in social and domestic life, where conditions will be much better. Wait for this to work itself out during the late months of the summer just ahead of you, perhaps in the early fall.

Tomorrow's Watchword — Of course, it is trite to say that no one knows or can prove what lies ahead of this daily life of ours, but great writers have given us beautiful expressions on the subject. "We sometimes congratulate ourselves at the moment of waking from a troubled dream; this may be true of the moment after death," wrote Hawthorne, while everyone knows Shakespeare's sentence, "We are such stuff as dreams are made on, and our little life is rounded with a sleep."

Seven of Ralph Waldo Emerson's ancestors were New England ministers.

My Neighbor Says:

When it is necessary to put screws in plastic walls and there is no woodwork available at the right place, enlarge the hole about twice the size of the screw and insert a little plaster of paris mixed with water, put the screw into this and it will set immediately and hold like iron.
